Note.—This Return, prepared by the Registrar-General of Seamen, cannot be given for earlier years. It includes Channel Islands Vessels, but not those of the British Plantations.—The Home Trade signifies on the Coasts of the United Kingdom, or to Ports between the limits of the River Elbe and Brest.—The Foreign Trade signifies to Ports beyond such limits.—No Foreign-going Vessel is included which has not been so reported within four years, and no Home Trade Vessel which has not been reported within one year. It is possible that some Vessels may be included which have ceased to exist, or are no longer employed as British Vessels, but every endeavour is made to ascertain and strike off such Vessels.—With respect to the Crews, a very small deduction ought to be made for the case of men who join a fresh ship immediately on their discharge from the former one, which happens to remain in Port.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON A CODE OF SIGNALS TO BE USED AT SEA.

TO THE LORDS OF THE COMMITTEE OF PRIVY COUNCIL FOR TRADE.

COMMITTEE ROOM, BOARD OF TRADE,
WHITEHALL, 24th Sept. 1856.

MY LORDS,

In pursuance of your Lordships' Minute of the 2nd July, 1855,* appointing us a Committee "to inquire into and report upon the subject of a Code of Signals to be used at Sea," we assembled on the 3rd of that month, and have since from time to time continued our meetings; and, having fully considered the subject, we have the honour to submit the following Report of our proceedings.

Before entering upon the general question of the formation of a New Code of Signals for the Mercantile Navy, we thought it right to examine such published Codes as have from time to time been in use in the Royal Navy and the British as well as Foreign Merchant Services. They are comprised in the following list:—

1. Admiralty Code	1808
2. Lynn's	1813
3. Squire's	1820
4. Admiralty	1826
5. Phillipps'	1836
6. Röhde's	1836
7. Raper's	1828
8. Admiralty (present Code).
9. Walker's	1841
10. Watson's	—
11. Rogers' (American)	1854
12. Reynold's (French)	1855
13. Marryatt's	1854 / 1856

In addition to the above, several other Codes, more or less of a local or limited character, were noticed by us, as also various suggestions for signalling at sea that have been submitted to us, either directly or through the Board of Trade and other Departments of Government.

After carefully examining the modes of signalling adopted in these various codes and plans, we were of opinion that, although all were in some respects unsatisfactory in themselves, as not fulfilling all the requirements of the present day, yet there existed in them the elements for forming an improved Code for the use of Ships.

We had particularly to consider that, independently of a good system of Signals for effecting a Telegraphic communication between ships, one very important object in framing a system for the purpose was to provide, at the same time, facilities for making Ships' Names or Numbers.

The great advantage to be derived from an easy method of exchanging Ships' Names by Signals is obvious.

In a Report which was submitted to your Lordships by the Registrar-General of Seamen, in March, 1855 (a copy of which is annexed to this Report*), your Lordships' attention is drawn to the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, by which every British registered ship is compelled to have permanently marked on her main beam the number,—now generally described as her "Official Number,"—by which she is registered, which is entered upon her Certificate of Registry, and by which she may be at once identified without reference to her name.

These numbers will, it is calculated, amount to upwards of 40,000 in the first year after registry has become general; and as the cancelled numbers will not be renewed until a lapse of perhaps five years, it has been calculated that upwards of 50,000 numbers will be outstanding at one time, and that, consequently, that number must be provided for in the Code, in addition to the number required for Telegraphic purposes.

We next considered what principles should be laid down as the basis for the formation of an efficient Code, and resolved as follows:—

1. The Code ought to be comprehensive and clear, and not expensive.

* See Appendix A.

* See Appendix B.

2. It ought to provide for not less than 20,000 distinct Signals, and should, besides, be capable of designating not less than 50,000 ships, with power of extension if required.
3. It should express the nature of the Signal made by the combination of the signs employed, and the more important Signals should be expressed by the more simple combinations.
4. A Signal should not consist of more than Four Flags or Symbols at one hoist.
5. A Signal should be made complete in one hoist in one place.
6. Signals should have the same meaning wherever shown.
7. The Signal Book should be so arranged, either numerically or alphabetically, in classes, as to admit of the subject being readily referred to, and provision should be made for future additions.
8. The Code should be so framed as to be capable of adaptation for international communication.

As regards the existing system of making Signals at sea, we submit the following observations:

The Code of Signals most generally used at this time on board both British and Foreign ships is that known as "Marryatt's." There is also a French Code by Captain Reynold, of the French Imperial Navy, which has been translated into English, and an American Code by Mr. Rogers, of Baltimore, in use in their respective countries, and, as we are informed, recognised by their respective Governments.

These Codes are all based on the Numeral System; that is to say, the Flags are numbered from 1 to 9, with a Cipher Flag (0), and the Signals are composed of one or more Flags, representing by numbers the words or sentences required to be indicated.

Perhaps the best argument in favour of this (the Numeral) system is the fact, that all the Codes in use (with the exception of the Vocabulary used in the Royal Navy) are based on it, and a Code on any other principle would be so far at variance with existing habits; but, whatever importance is attached to that circumstance, there are other considerations of equal weight which must not be lost sight of, and which have influenced us in forming an opinion on the merits of the system.

It is perhaps advisable briefly to submit to your Lordships the objections which it appears to us exist to that method of signalling.

If the number of Signals required were very limited, we believe that the Numeral System above referred to would be sufficient; but since it is intended to give the Official Numbers of Ships, and as a range of Numerals of not less than 70,000 will be required, we are of opinion that that system is quite inadequate.

It is obvious that to represent such Numbers as 22, 131, 444, 5656, &c., with only a single set of Flags, means must be devised to substitute some Sign—either a Flag or a Pendant—to represent the Numeral Flag already employed, and of which no duplicate is carried. This can only be accomplished with one set of Flags by the use of distinct Signs called "Substitutes or Repeaters," and which may be made to repeat the Flags for which they are designed to act as Substitutes; thus, by the following, which is the simplest method,

A repeats the 1st Flag in the Hoist.
B ,, 2nd ,,
C ,, 3rd ,,

We think that there is great objection to the use of these Repeating Flags. Great caution is necessary in placing them, and there is always risk of making mistakes.

It also involves the necessity of making one Substitute repeat another Substitute, which is objectionable, but unavoidable.

If further proof were required that the use of Repeating Flags is to be avoided, we would refer to the Codes of Marryatt, Rogers, and Reynold, who have hitherto evaded their use by omitting in their respective Codes all, or nearly all, numbers in which the same numeral appears more than once, such as 44, 313, 6161, 8888, &c.; and by dispensing with the aid of these auxiliaries, they greatly lessen the capacity of their Codes, as is shown thus:

10 Numerals with 3 Repeaters would give 9999 Signals.
10 Numerals without the aid of Repeaters make only . . . . . 5860 ,,

Showing a loss of . . . 4139 Numbers in every 10,000 Signals.

Any given number may, however, be made with 10 Flags and 3 Repeaters, up to 9999; but a Numeral Code consisting of 13 Flags (if no more than 4 Flags are to be shown in one hoist, and if the Signal is to be complete in that hoist, and not divided by exhibiting a part of it in another place) must of necessity be limited to 9999 Signals.

It is true that in the Numeral Code, by the use of distinguishing or divisional Flags or Pendants, as many different series of numbers may be obtained as there are Pendants or Flags employed for the purpose, and that by changing the position of these distinguishing Flags the number of series may be multiplied.

The plan of obtaining high Numerals by both Marryatt's and Reynold's Codes proceeds on the above principle of distinguishing Pendants or Flags; that is to say, particular Flags designate certain classes of Signals, such as the "Telegraph" Flag and the "Rendezvous" Flag, which signify, respectively, either that you are conversing or are appointing a place of meeting; and Pendants are used for classifying ships according to the Colour of the Pendant employed. For the purpose also of increasing the Numeral power of the Signal Book (that is, of effecting a fresh series of Signals), the same Pendant may be placed at the top or bottom or in the middle of the hoist, and its value, i. e. its Numeral power, may be varied in each separate position. In all these Codes Five Flags in a Hoist are used to make high numbers; and in the latest edition of Marryatt's Code, Four Repeating Flags are employed for making consecutive numbers as high as 99,999. Mr. Rogers, in the present edition of his Code, does not employ Repeaters, but he has a scheme for so doing, in the same manner as by Marryatt's Code.

We found other means adopted for enlarging a Code of Signals, namely, by the use of distinguishing Pendants shown from another Masthead, or by dividing the Signal, and showing part on one Mast, and part elsewhere.

We have already referred to our decision, that in any efficient Code no more than Four Flags ought to be shown in one hoist, and that a Signal ought to be made in one hoist at one place.

Upon these grounds, therefore, the system of Numerals appeared to us to be defective for a comprehensive Code, as not being capable of designating in a consecutive Numerical Series 70,000 distinct Signals without at any time showing more than Four Flags for each Signal made; and it is clear, therefore, that it would have been inconsistent with the principles laid down to have proceeded with the framing of a Code upon the basis of a system of Numeral Signs.

Having thus set aside the Numeral System, we had to consider what other method would best meet the requirements of an efficient Code.

There was only one other method known to us by which the objects we had in view could be attained.

It was that of taking a number of Signs (or Flags) sufficient for the purpose, and by their transposition effecting a certain number of permutations, each different combination of two or more of the Signs so taken forming a Signal distinct in itself and having a particular signification.

We subjoin a Table showing the number of distinct Signals which ten or more Flags are capable, by permutation, of forming in hoists of from two to four Signs at a time in one place.

PERMUTATIONS

OF WHICH THE FOLLOWING NUMBERS OF SIGNS ARE CAPABLE.

Single Signs not reckoned.	With 10.	With 11.	With 12.	With 13.	With 14.	With 15.	With 16.	With 17.	With 18.	With 19.	With 20.

From the above Table it will be seen that 18 Flags will be requisite to give the number of Signals which we have stated to be necessary, i. e. 70,000 distinct Signals, with power of extension to 78,642 Signals, each Signal consisting of a hoist of not more than Four Flags.

The actual number (18) is only two more than vessels using Marryatt's Code now carry; and having decided upon this number, we proceeded to the naming of the Flags or Signs, in devising which it appeared to us—

1. That the characters should be familiar ones.
2. That they should recur in a well-known order, for facility of reference.

The letters of the alphabet seemed best adapted for the purpose, and we determined that it would be most convenient to assign to each of the 18 Flags a letter of the alphabet, leaving out the vowels.

The omission of the vowels was forced upon us from the circumstance, that by introducing them every objectionable word composed of four letters or less, not only in our own but in foreign languages, would appear in the Code in the course of the permutation of the letters of the alphabet.

Too much importance should not, however, be set upon the objection which naturally occurs, that the alphabet is thus incomplete, and that the power of spelling is apparently lost; for it should be understood that the letters are not used as letters, but as signs, characterising the different Flags by the most familiar method, and in an order well known.

The last consideration which occupied our attention was the colouring of the Flags to be used.

In determining this question, the following points were discussed:—

1. Whether Marryatt's Flags were the best adapted in shape and colour for signalling?
2. Whether Marryatt's Flags being generally in use on board Merchant Ships of this and Foreign Countries, and also, as we have found, at many Foreign Signal Stations, it would not be convenient to adopt them as far as possible?

We were not prepared to decide the first question in the affirmative, but considering the heavy expense of procuring a new set of Flags, and in deference to what appeared to be a general wish,—that Flags which are, and have been for many years, so generally in use in Merchant Ships, and with which mariners are familiar, should not, without very strong reasons, be dispensed with,—we determined to recommend the adoption of the Flags now employed in Marryatt's Code (with slight variations), as far as they were applicable.

In conformity with the foregoing Resolutions, a Signal Book has been prepared, and accompanies this Report.

In submitting this Volume, we have only to remark, as regards the general contents, that it does not materially differ from other Signal Books.

The general principles of the Code, and directions for its practical working, are explained in the commencement of the book; but we desire to point out to your Lordships the main advantages which it appears to us to possess over any other Code that we have had before us:

First, its comprehensiveness and distinctness, the combination of the Signs expressing the nature of the Signal made—two Flags or Symbols in a hoist always meaning either Danger or Urgency—and the Signals throughout being arranged in a consecutive series, so that any individual Signal, whether a word or a sentence, may readily be found; secondly, that the Flags and Pendants are so arranged as by their position to characterise the Signals made; thus,

In Signals made with Two Signs—

The Burgee uppermost represents	"Attention Signals."
A Pendant uppermost ,,	"Compass Signals."
And a square Flag uppermost represents	"Danger Signals."

In Signals composed of Four Signs—

The Burgee uppermost represents	"Geographical."
A Pendant uppermost ,,	"Vocabulary."
And a square Flag uppermost represents	"Ships' Names."

and thirdly, that the arrangement of the Code is such as to hold out to Foreigners the same advantages that it affords to our own marine.

Part I. is that which, by translation, may be made an Universal Language of Signals. It is intended that the corresponding combination of any two or more of the 18 Signal Flags which any Nation adopting the Commercial Code may please to employ shall always have the same meaning, in whatever language the Signal may be expressed; and it will only remain for those Nations who choose to adopt the Code, to make a Dictionary or Alphabetical Index to the words and sentences so arranged, which, corresponding with Part II. of the English Code, will be the Foreigners' National Vocabulary, as Part II. of our own Code is the English Vocabulary.

A further advantage is, that the International Signals, consisting of all such words and sentences as can ordinarily be required for any purpose, are confined within the limit of the 3-Flag Signals, excepting only the Geographical Table, which, from the number of places, &c., required to be indicated, it was not found possible to include within that limit.

In short, if an Englishman or a Foreigner desires, with such a code before him, to make a Signal, he is enabled to express his wishes by referring to the Alphabetical Part II. of his Code, and he will there find the combination of Letters, or Flags, which must be used. On the other hand, if an Englishman or a Foreigner wishes to decipher or make out any Signal taken from this Code, which is to be mutually intelligible, he is enabled to do so by referring to Part I. of his Signal Book, in which the meaning of the Signal displayed is at once obtained—that meaning being the same in all languages.

Part II. of the Code is the National Vocabulary and Index to the Signals arranged in Part I.; but it is far more comprehensive, and contains much that is not to be found in Part I.

This Part is alphabetically arranged throughout; and opposite to each word or sentence are placed the Letters or Signs by which it is to be expressed,—either to the right or to the left hand.

If the word or sentence required to be indicated has any Letters set against it to the right, it will be found in the International Part I., and can be used for communicating in a Foreign Language, but not otherwise.

We entertain the hope, that should the Code be appreciated and enter into general use, at some future day all Nations may agree to use one set of Flags for commercial purposes, and thus complete a mode of universal communication.

In the meantime, we recommend that Foreign Maritime States be invited to forward Plates of the Signal Flags which they have in use on board their own Merchant Ships, in order that a corresponding arrangement of Symbols may be mutually agreed upon, should they think proper to adopt the Code; but it should be borne in mind, that to reap the full benefit of the Code the Flags and Pendants to be employed ought to be in shape and order similar to those proposed by us.

In conclusion, we desire to explain the reasons which have decided us upon omitting the List of Ships from the Signal Book now presented.

In the first place, the number of British registered ships is so great, that we are of opinion that to have included the List would have increased the size of the volume to such an extent as to have rendered it too cumbrous as a book designed for ready reference, and, at the same time, it would have greatly enhanced its price; and, secondly, it would be very inconvenient and expensive to introduce a Code which must constantly be revised, it being essential that a List of Ships, to be of real use, should be periodically corrected.

About 40,000 Signals would have to be at once appropriated, and a list of 40,000 vessels to be alphabetically arranged as well; and it is needless to say that the above would form a book of considerable size.

Under these circumstances, we saw grave objections to the introduction into the present volume of the List of British Ships, which we consider will be better published in a separate form, as an Authorised Official List to which the Signals may be appropriated, as has been suggested to your Lordships in a letter from the Registrar-General of Seamen, a copy of which is appended to this Report.*

This List can be annually corrected, and should be sold at as cheap a rate as possible; and if it is found that the cost of its publication will not admit of its sale (without loss) at a low price we would suggest, that as this Official List will be a very valuable source of information, in whatever form it may be decided to publish it, both to the officers of the Government at home and abroad, as well as to the Shipping and Mercantile Community generally, your Lordships may consider whether a sum may not properly be granted out of the Mercantile Marine Fund towards the expense of a publication which, if widely circulated, would tend so greatly to the benefit of Shipping.

APPENDIX B.

General Register and Record Office of Seamen,
Custom House, London, March 30, 1855.

1. The Merchant Shipping Act of 1854 provides that, "from and after the 1st of May, 1855," to every British registered ship shall be appropriated an official number, to be entered upon her certificate of registry, and permanently marked upon her main beam.

2. And the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have been pleased to direct that such official number shall be assigned in continuous arithmetical succession, and attach invariably to the vessel's name, so as to insure, that through all changes of ownership or Port of Registry no two ships shall be numbered alike.

3. This regulation will greatly facilitate official operations, by the ready mode of identifying each particular vessel, and avoid the inconvenience now experienced, owing to many vessels belonging to the same port, and of the same tonnage, and bearing the same name, necessarily changing their identity when registered anew in other ports.

4. In order to extend the utility of this regulation to vessels already registered, their Lordships have been pleased to direct that a special official number shall be also assigned to all such vessels, to be marked upon the existing certificate of registry, when presented at any custom-house; and provision has been made for carrying this regulation into effect.

5. The identity of every particular vessel being thus established, the inconvenience that has heretofore existed will no longer be felt. But, great as is the advantage of this identity, the extent of the benefit of which the regulation is capable, will be but imperfectly realised, until means are devised and established for communicating these distinctive numbers between all ships passing at sea, and signalling to stations on shore.

6. The present number of British registered vessels amounts to about 35,000, and 1,500 new vessels are added annually. It will, therefore, be necessary to appropriate, in a signal book, at least 50,000 symbols, for the purpose of signifying the special numbers of these vessels.

7. There is no Code of Signals in existence which under its present arrangements, and with its present number of flags, is capable of accomplishing this (and other objects enumerated in paragraphs 11 and 12), without such complexity as would make the interpretation very difficult.

8. As it is of the highest importance that the community should not be deprived of the great benefit that must arise from the existence of an established means of general communication, it is essential to consider whether any of the Codes at present in use can be made available, by better arrangement, and a moderate addition to their flags, or in other respects applied to the purpose.

If such should be found practicable, it is desirable that one of them (perhaps that which has the greatest circulation) should be selected and brought into general operation.

9. But, whatever means may be adopted in these respects, it is certain, that when once an universal Code has been determined upon, the under-mentioned advantages will result.

10. First, it will afford a ready means of making known to signal stations, or when ships pass each other at sea, the identity of particular vessels, so that their progress or whereabouts may be correctly reported.

11. Secondly, of communicating at sea the wants and wishes of masters of vessels.

12. Thirdly, of extending the means of intercourse to the vessels of all countries, by the establishment of an International Code of Signals.

13. Such palpable advantages, capable of being realised by this beneficial regulation of special numbering, which establishes the principal element heretofore wanting, will, no doubt, speedily become apparent, and give rise to propositions, either for amending the present signal books, or publishing new ones; and as each of the existing Codes would probably be extended by its author, and the evil of the present complicated signals consequently perpetuated, the difficulty of remedy will be increased.

14. I hasten, therefore, to bring the matter under their Lordships' notice, in order to obviate the obstruction to establishing one universal Code, which the anticipated multiplicity of schemes will occasion.

15. And I respectfully submit that the immediate consideration of the matter in its several bearings becomes most necessary, not only for the reasons stated, but in order that the views of shipowners and others interested, and the sanction of their Lordships, may be obtained in favour of an established Code of Signals for the mercantile marine, which shall embrace all the requisites of such a scheme.

16. There are several Codes of Signals in operation at present, and it would (as before observed) be desirable to adopt the Flags, if not the text book, most generally used, provided they could be made sufficient for the purpose, so as to save expense.

17. It is obvious, however, that such a Code as would be practically useful, easily interpreted, and calculated for universal application, must deviate in many respects from any existing one, in order to avoid the complexities now so generally complained of.

18. As this proposition involves important objects calculated to facilitate the ends of commerce and navigation, and to establish a closer communion between maritime nations, and will require very careful consideration, in order that it may be well matured before it receives the public sanction, and the influential support necessary for its success, I therefore further submit that,—

19. Should their Lordships be pleased to approve of the proposal, whether, in the first place, it might not be desirable to ascertain the views of the Local Marine Boards, Lloyd's, and other mercantile bodies interested in so universal a method of communicating correctly the progress and whereabouts of trading vessels, and other objects attainable by a well-designed Code of Signals.

20. If after such reference, it should be determined to proceed in the matter, it might be desirable to form a committee to consider the subject, consisting of persons named by parties whose interests are concerned, or of members called together by the Board of Trade.

21. That the shipping offices, or customs, may be made available for correcting ships' Signal Books half yearly, and at the termination of each foreign voyage; and also for giving facilities to those who adopt the sanctioned Code.

22. That a competent person should be appointed to superintend the issue and correction of Signal Books, and the whole expense covered by small charges for the books, and for the periodical corrections.

23. For the original expense of five or six pounds for Flags,* and a yearly charge of one shilling for corrections, ship masters would be able to make known the progress of voyages to the public generally, but more particularly to the persons interested in the fate of every individual vessel, her crew and cargo.

I have, &c.

(Signed) J. H. Brown,

Registrar-General of Seamen.

APPENDIX C.

General Register and Record Office of Seamen,
Custom House, London, March 27, 1856.

Sir,—In compliance with their Lordships' directions that I should report fully upon the desirableness of extending the scope and utility of the "Mercantile Navy List," and printing therein lists of the registered vessels belonging to the British empire, with the official number by which each vessel is distinguished, together with any symbols that shall be devised by the Signal Committee now sitting for interpreting those numbers, so that the identity of a vessel may be intimated, without mistake, by a simple and ready process; also, as to the utility of the aforesaid system for official purposes, I beg leave to make the following statement:—

Having brought this matter under their Lordships' consideration in my letter of the 30th of March, 1855 (a copy of which is annexed †), their Lordships were pleased to refer my proposal to certain influential parties connected with the shipping interest, who generally concurred in the utility of establishing a means of signifying by Signals the official numbers assigned to every registered ship. This subject has accordingly received great attention from the committee appointed to consider the subject of Signals, who, it is understood, will shortly make their Report.

Meanwhile, the appropriation of the official numbers has been carried into effect, so far as can be accomplished until the return of those vessels from abroad which may not have obtained numbers in the colonial ports of the British empire.

The new mode of identifying ships is intended to supersede the one now in use, which, owing to many vessels bearing the same name, frequently leads to error, and always makes it necessary to specify certain particulars (in addition to the name), such as the port of registry, the number, and year of registry in that port, &c. &c.; the enumeration of which particulars (often changing with every change of ownership) is attended with trouble, delay, and uncertainty, but must be made known before a vessel can be correctly identified.

The appropriation of an exclusive number to every registered ship is not, however, sufficient in itself, and will not realise the utility of which the design is capable, unless a book of reference is prepared, issued, and from time to time corrected, so that (for official purposes) officers of Her

* Those already possessing the Flags in use would only require the additional ones.

Majesty's Navy, of the Board of Trade, the Customs, Coast Guard, Trinity House, Consuls in foreign ports, &c., &c., shall have an easy means of reference, and thus avoid or correct errors in reports respecting vessels, or their crews; and also that these officers may have the opportunity of comparing the official numbers indorsed on ships' certificates with those in the official List.

This List will show the particular numbers cancelled from time to time, and by this means obviate any inconvenience that may possibly arise from vessels assuming false or erroneous names or characters by means of obsolete registers.

The evident advantage of the present mode of identifying each ship by an official number, over the old system, has been universally admitted; and the requirement is readily complied with by ship owners and masters, as soon as opportunities for obtaining the official number occur; but the utility of which it is further capable might not be apparent (without further explanation) to those who have not given the matter much consideration. And as their Lordships may wish to ascertain the opinions of the shipping interest by reference to Lloyd's Committee, the Local Marine Boards, and the several Societies, it becomes desirable to point out the peculiar facilities which the regulation affords, not only for the official purposes above mentioned, but for the general and private interests of those concerned in trade.

The importance of correct reports and accounts of matters affecting shipping is apparent from the many journals and circulars established for this especial purpose, and in most newspapers shipping intelligence forms a prominent feature.

This is not to be wondered at, considering the vast number of interests concerned in the fate of life and property afloat; anything, therefore, that tends to facilitate or to insure the correctness of these reports will be eagerly appreciated.

Now, as every British registered ship is or will soon be distinguished by an especial number, unalterable so long as she is in existence, and independent of the other particulars enumerated on her certificate of registry, or other papers, such as port of registry, &c., &c.,—if an arrangement can be effected by which this number shall be represented by certain flags or symbols, the exhibition of it (the number), whether by writing or by signal, will always serve to identify the vessel, provided reference can be had to a correct book or list, in which such number and signal is entered opposite to the ship's name, accompanied by the particulars of the country, port, tonnage, &c.

By this means, wherever a ship might be met with, whether on the ocean or elsewhere, she would be individually known; and the consequence would be that more frequent and correct reports of the whereabouts of vessels and of their condition would be obtained,—for not only will the identity be correctly established, but the means of telegraphing increased, and the expense of transmitting intelligence reduced, by the abbreviation of the message.

Useful and necessary, therefore, as this regulation will become for official purposes, its value is most apparent in connection with commercial intercourse, and the superior facilities which it will afford for promoting the interests of trade and navigation.

Under these circumstances, it may be anticipated that the publication of a manual containing correct lists of vessels, with means of identifying them, and other particulars necessary for the information of the shipping interest, at such a price as shall render it generally available, will not only be acceptable to the large and influential class of persons concerned, but, when its utility is tested, it will probably in a short time obtain such a circulation as will repay the sum necessary to launch a book of so peculiar and elaborate a character; and that it will tend, in connection with the proposed Signal Book, to realise the hope of effecting an international communication between maritime states.

But even if this anticipation of obtaining a large circulation is not realised, I submit that it is desirable and expedient for the Board of Trade, in furtherance of the laws which are producing such beneficial results in our mercantile marine, to establish and maintain an official organ which shall authorise and make known the regulations that become necessary to be promulgated from time to time, in order to explain those laws; and also to obviate the plea of ignorance which the want of such an organ often suggests; by offering to the public a manual, by reference to which all persons may secure the advantages I have enumerated, and ascertain their position with respect to existing regulations, so as to avoid incurring penalties. I have, &c.

METEOROLOGICAL DEPARTMENT, BOARD OF TRADE.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade,
Marine Department, September, 1854.

Sir,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to invite the attention of the ——————————————————————————————— to the accompanying Report of the Conference which, at the suggestion of Lieutenant Maury, of the United States Navy, was held at Brussels, on the subject of establishing a uniform System of Meteorological Observations at Sea, and concurring in a general plan of observations on the winds and currents of the Ocean, with a view to the acquirement of a more correct knowledge of the laws which govern the motion of those elements, and to the improvement of Navigation.

In consequence of the suggestions contained in that Report, Her Majesty's Government has submitted, and Parliament has sanctioned, a Vote for Instruments, and for the Tabulation of Logs, and other Meteorological Records; and Captain FitzRoy, of the Royal Navy, has been appointed to assist this Board in the discussion of the observations.

The object of the arrangements will be to attain, if possible, to such an improved knowledge of the currents of the ocean, and of the direction of the prevailing winds, as may materially diminish the risk and labour of navigation, and shorten the duration of voyages.

As an acknowledgment for the pains and attention of such Masters of Foreign-going Ships as are willing to co-operate with Her Majesty's Government in this undertaking, and as are competent to fulfil the conditions required of them, it is proposed to place a distinguishing mark against their names in the Mercantile Navy List, and to give copies of the Charts and Books which will be printed from time to time from their own and their brother officers' observations during the time they continue to contribute. These Books and Charts will contain information as to the prevailing winds and currents in the part of the Ocean of which they treat, and of the most desirable tracks to follow, in order to make the surest and quickest passages, and how to avoid or mitigate the violence of hurricanes, &c.

And further, to such Masters as will undertake to fill up the Columns of the Abstract Logs or registers, and to make observations at the hours denoted by the large figures for their successive voyages, the United States Government have directed to be furnished (gratis) some Charts and Sailing Directions of Lieut. Maury, of the United States Navy, for the part of the Ocean they are navigating.

In order to facilitate the desired co-operation, standard instruments have been prepared, and may be obtained at a diminished cost, for the use of the Merchant Navy.

My Lords are in hopes that the object of this undertaking and the inducements held out to those who are willing to co-operate in it, will be considered by the more wealthy Shipping Companies, and private Shipowners, of sufficient importance to induce them to encourage the officers in command of their ships to undertake these observations, and to furnish some, at least, of their Masters with the requisite Instruments; but in other cases, in order to render the experiment as extensive as possible, Instruments will be furnished by the Marine Department of this Board, to Masters desiring to have them, and giving sufficient proof of their attainments. The extent to which their Lordships may be able to do this will however be limited to the means placed by Parliament at their Lordships' disposal, and my Lords are not prepared to pledge themselves to continue it in future years.

I am to add that it is very desirable that any Masters of Foreign-going Ships who may be willing to avail themselves of the privileges mentioned above, should communicate with as little delay as possible with this Department, either directly, or through the Agent appointed for this purpose at the Outports. I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,

JAMES BOOTH.

SUMMARY STATEMENT OF THE MEASURES TAKEN BY H. M.'S GOVERNMENT FOR PROMOTING OBSERVATION AND SYSTEMATIC RECORD OF METEOROLOGICAL FACTS AT SEA.

THE importance of accumulating observations of wind, weather, climate, currents, temperature and density of water, with other kindred matters, usually included under the term Meteorology—having been urged by the Royal Society, and fully admitted by Government—a meteorological department was established, under the Board of Trade, in 1855.

To secure methodical reduction and tabulation of such observations, in order that the philosopher might use them with confidence and facility, and the navigator acquire practical information without delay, much consideration was given to the system adopted, which is, briefly, the following:

The surface of the globe is supposed to be divided into Squares, which are numbered and lettered, on maps, for reference—numbers showing the principal squares, and letters their subdivisions. These divisions serve for grouping observations; and the respective centres of areas serve as points of particular reference for "means" or averages.

Folio books, agreeing with each other in tabular arrangement, are numbered to correspond with the squares, and are so methodised that every individual entry made from any register of uncorrected observations is duly recorded in its appropriate Table, so that it may be used singly or otherwise, and identified, or traced, at any future time.

If averages, or means, be required, of course these data are equally available; but the general principles of operation are, to let nothing be lost or confused, nothing be vitiated, and no doubt exist as to the authority for any fact.

There are in use at present about ninety collecting books, of tabular forms (data books), distributed and headed for the following subjects:—Barometer, Thermometer, Hydrometer, Winds, Weather, Currents, Variation, Soundings, Crossings, Passages, Storms, Ice, Shooting Stars, Meteors, Aurora, Earthquakes, and Electricity.

Entries are made in the tabular forms, as the logs, journals, or meteorological registers are successively examined, some data being extracted, and recorded by one person—some by others—being excessively voluminous.

Remarkable passages in these documents, of peculiar interest, are noted for special publication.

To the present time, 1858, not less than two thousand five hundred months of good meteorological logs have been received from about four hundred selected ships in the mercantile navy.

More than four hundred selected merchant ships have been supplied by Government with tested and reliable instruments, besides charts and books.

The character of these ships and their Captains may be inferred from the subjoined lists of those from whom logs, or registers, have been received.

According to these lists, the following distinguishing marks are authorised in the Mercantile Navy List by the President of the Board of Trade, namely:—

To those names included in the First List, the letter A may be affixed; to those in the Second, B; Third, C; and Fourth, D.

In future years the same names may be further distinguished by numbers or additional letters—2 A, C D, &c.

Five Captains (Boyd, Quirk, Toynbee, Trivett, and Wood,) having sent in meteorological registers superior to others, prior to 1857, a valuable Telescope was presented to each of those gentlemen, by order of the President of the Board of Trade; and some Captains having sent in very superior Registers since 1856, a Telescope, Watch, or Sextant, has been presented to three of those gentlemen, by order of the President of the Board of Trade.

In accordance with the directions of the President—as expressed above—a gold chronometer has been presented to Captain Henry Toynbee, a sextant to Captain David Smith, and a telescope to Captain James Gales.

Since 1858 (when the abovementioned honorary award was made) and to the month of November 1859, one thousand one hundred months of good meteorological observations at sea have been received from a hundred and fifty selected ships in the mercantile navy. These, added to former returns, make a total of 3600 months from 550 carefully selected ships.

The greater part of these registers are well filled with information not only useful to Seamen, but truly valuable to scientific enquirers into physical phenomena.

Some of the logs in the first lists, or class, are unequalled by other registers of a similar kind.

They do honour to those who have kept them, and to the Mercantile Navy.

2. Every such place shall either be 6 feet in height from deck to deck, or shall have for every seaman and apprentice, if they sleep in hammocks, a space of not less than 54 cubic feet, and if they do not sleep in hammocks, a space of not less than 72 cubic feet.

BOARD OF TRADE, Marine Department, July, 1855.

NOTICE TO SHIP MASTERS,

AS TO THEIR DUTY WITH RESPECT TO BRITISH CONSULS IN FOREIGN PORTS.

It having been reported that some Masters are in the habit of sailing from Foreign ports at which they have touched, without reporting their vessels to the Consuls, in accordance with the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, in this respect, the Board of Trade, before proceeding to enforce the penalties prescribed in such cases, desire to draw the attention of Masters of vessels to the following requirements of the statute:—

"Whenever any ship, in whatever part of Her Majesty's dominions the same is registered (except ships whose business for the time being is to carry passengers), arrives at any Foreign port where there is a British Consular Officer, or at any port in any British possession abroad, and remains thereat for forty-eight hours, the Master must, within forty-eight hours of the ship's arrival, deliver to such Consular Officer, or to the Chief Officer of Customs (as the case may be) the agreement with the crew, and also all indentures and assignments of apprenticeships, or in the case of a ship belonging to a British possession, such of the said documents as such ship is provided with.

"Such Officer will keep such documents during the ship's stay in such port, and in cases where any indorsements upon the agreement are required by the Act will duly make the same, and will return the said documents to the Master a reasonable time before his departure, with a certificate indorsed on the agreement, stating when the same were respectively delivered and returned.

"And if any Master fails to deliver any such documents as aforesaid, he will for every such default incur a penalty not exceeding £20; and in any prosecution for such penalty, it will lie upon the Master either to produce the certificate of the Consular Officer or Officer of Customs hereinbefore required, or to prove that he duly obtained the same, or that it was impracticable for him so to do.

"If the Master of any British ship discharges any seaman or apprentice in any place situate in any British possession abroad (except the possession in which he was shipped) without previously obtaining the sanction in writing indorsed on the agreement, of some public Shipping Master or other Officer duly appointed by the local government in that behalf, or (in the absence of any such functionary) of the Chief Officer of Customs, resident at or near the place where the discharge takes place; or,

"Discharges any seaman or apprentice at any place out of Her Majesty's dominions, without previously obtaining the sanction so indorsed as aforesaid of the British Consular Officer there, or (in his absence) of two respectable Merchants resident there; or

"Leaves behind any seaman or apprentice at any place situate in any British possession abroad on any ground whatever, without previously obtaining a certificate in writing so indorsed as aforesaid from such Officer or Person as aforesaid, stating the fact, and the cause thereof, whether such cause be unfitness or inability to proceed to Sea, or desertion, or disappearance; or

"Leaves behind any seaman or apprentice at any place out of Her Majesty's dominions, on shore or at sea, on any ground whatever without previously obtaining the certificate indorsed in manner and to the effect last aforesaid of the British Consular Officer there, or (in his absence) of two respectable Merchants, if there is any such at or near the place where the ship then is;

"He will, for each default, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.'

BOARD OF TRADE, August, 1855.

NOTICE.—WRECKED PROPERTY.

TO FISHERMEN, BOATMEN, AND OTHER PERSONS WHO MAY FIND WRECKED PROPERTY.

Attention is called to the following provisions in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854:—

All cargo and other articles, belonging to any ship or boat which is stranded or in distress at any place on the shore of the sea, or of any tidal water within the limits of the United Kingdom, that may be washed on shore, or otherwise be lost or taken from such ship or boat, must be delivered to the Receiver; and any person, whether he is the owner or not, who secretes or keeps possession of any such cargo or article, or refuses to deliver the same to the Receiver, or to any person authorised by him to demand the same, will incur a penalty not exceeding £100; and it is lawful for such Receiver or other person as aforesaid to take such cargo or article by force from the person so refusing to deliver the same.

The following rules shall be observed by any person finding or taking possession of wreck within the United Kingdom; that is to say:—

(1.) If the person so finding or taking possession of the same is the owner, he shall as soon as possible give notice to the Receiver of the district within which such wreck is found, stating that he has so found or taken possession of the same; and he shall describe in such notice the marks by which such wreck is distinguished.

(2.) If any person not being the owner finds or takes possession of any wreck, he shall as soon as possible deliver the same to such Receiver, as aforesaid;

And any person making default in obeying the provisions of this section shall incur the following penalties; that is to say:—

He shall incur a penalty not exceeding £100.

(4.) If he is not the owner and makes default in performing the several things the performance of which is hereby imposed on any person not being an owner,

He shall forfeit all claim to salvage;

He shall pay to the owner of such wreck, if the same is claimed, but if the same is unclaimed then to the person entitled to such unclaimed wreck, double the value of such wreck (such value to be recovered in the same way as a penalty of like amount); and

He shall incur a penalty not exceeding £100.

The name and address of the Receiver, if not known, may be learnt from any Officer of Customs.

INSTRUCTIONS IN RESPECT OF WRECKS AND CASUALTIES.

SAVING LIFE FROM SHIPWRECK.

The control of the Mortar and Rocket Apparatus for saving life having been transferred to the Board of Trade, the Inspecting Commanders of Coast Guard are henceforth to communicate directly with that Department concerning all matters relating to the saving of life from shipwreck, or to the supply of stores necessary for the Mortar and Rocket Apparatus.

The Board of Trade wish the Mortar and Rocket Apparatus to be rendered and kept as efficient as possible, and with this object, request that at the various stations where there is such an Apparatus, the Inspecting Commander of the District will, on receipt of this Circular, cause the same to be carefully and thoroughly inspected, the life lines, &c. to be tested, and a full report for each Apparatus, on a separate Form Wr. 23., transmitted to the Board of Trade with as little delay as possible. Any new stores required are to be procured as directed in paragraph 166. The Form Wr. 23. can be obtained on application to any Shipping Master.

The Board of Trade hold the Inspecting Commander responsible for the efficiency or otherwise of the Mortar and Rocket Apparatus in his district; and they require a report on the condition of the Apparatus to be made annually on Form Wr. 23., on the 30th June. The Board will, on all occasions, be glad to receive any observations and consider any suggestions that will in the opinion of Inspecting Commanders assist in the attainment of the object in view, viz., the Saving of Life from Shipwreck.

When an Inspecting Commander of a District thinks it desirable that a Mortar or Rocket Apparatus should be supplied to a Station at which none has been supplied before, he should write to the Board of Trade to that effect. In his application he should state his reasons for demanding the Apparatus, and why, if it is necessary, it has not been applied for sooner; the number of wrecks that have happened near the spot during the preceding five years; the nature of the coast, whether bounded by rugged cliffs or by a sloping bank; and whether in his opinion a Mortar or a Rocket Apparatus would be better adapted to meet the requirements of the locality. The application will then be taken into the consideration of the Board, and the Inspecting Commander will be advised of the result.

Should the Board determine on supplying the Apparatus, the following course is to be pursued:

(a.) The Inspecting Commander will be requested to make a demand by filling in the division marked (A.) on Form Wr. 24., and transmitting it to the Board of Trade.

(b.) On receipt of this demand the Board of Trade will examine it, and if found correct will send the Form Wr. 24. to Mr. Dennett, Captain Manby, &c., as the case may be, with a request (in division B.) that the Apparatus may be supplied, and forwarded to a port named by the Inspecting Commander.

(c.) The person supplying the Apparatus will advise the Inspecting Commander when it is about to be forwarded, and will receive his directions as to its transmission. When it is transmitted it will be accompanied by an inventory, and by the Form Wr. 24. (with division C. properly filled in).

(d.) When the Inspecting Commander receives the stores and the papers named above, he will cause the inventory to be read over; and on ascertaining that the stores received correspond with the description given in the inventory, he will fill in the certificate marked (D.) in the Form Wr. 24., and transmit that form, and the inventory, to the Board of Trade, when, if found correct, directions will be given for immediate payment.

In cases in which a complete Apparatus has already been supplied, and fresh stores are required to replace such parts thereof as are expended, worn out, or rendered useless, the Inspecting Commander of the Coast Guard may purchase them on the spot without first referring to the Board of Trade. In such cases when the goods have been supplied, he is to forward the accounts to the Board of Trade, with a certificate according to the following form, when directions will be given for payment of the amount:

"I hereby certify that the above stores have been received by me; that I have caused them to be thoroughly examined, and have found them to be of the best quality and workmanship throughout; that they are adapted to the requirements of the apparatus at the ———— station; and that the prices charged are fair and reasonable.

———————————— Inspecting Commander."

This arrangement does not apply in the case of Rockets, Quill Tubes, Rocket Frames, Stands, Poles, and Cartouches, which must be demanded by the Inspecting Commander on Form Wr. 24., as directed for a complete Apparatus in paragraph 165. above.

When expense has been incurred for labour or cart-hire in transporting the Mortar or Rocket Apparatus to the assistance of a ship in distress, the bill for the same is to be sent to the Inspecting Commander of the Coast Guard, or, where there is no Coast Guard, to the Collector of Customs; and the claimant is to be directed to apply at the Custom House for payment at the expiration of such a time as is sufficient to admit of the account being sent to, and again received from, the Board of Trade. The Inspecting Commander or Collector of Customs, after having certified thereon that the service performed was necessary, and the amount charged reasonable, will forward the bill to the Board of Trade for approval. It will, if approved, be returned to the Collector of Customs, with directions for payment.

SALVAGE.

In cases in which it is the Receiver's duty to deliver property to owners on security by bond, for payment of Salvage, Customs Duty, Fees and Expenses, as mentioned in paragraph 53. of the Instructions, he may in lieu of such bond, when the Owners wish it, take the security in the form of a Deposit in Cash.

In determining the amount to be deposited, the Receiver must be guided by the same rules as in determining the amount for which a bond on Form Wr. 6. would be given in accordance with paragraph 53. of the Instructions.

Money received on account of such deposits is to be brought into the Form Wr. 10. as receipts on account of "Deposits for Salvage, &c.," and its disposal is to be duly accounted for.

FEES, EXPENSES, AND REMUNERATION.

When Officers and Men in the Coast Guard Service are employed in watching or protecting property, and make a claim for remuneration under paragraphs 79. and 123. of the Instructions it must be made in duplicate on Form Wr. 15. a. Applications for such remuneration will not be entertained if made on any other form. A supply of the Form Wr. 15. a. can be obtained of any Shipping Master.

In cases in which Receivers detain vessels for payment of Salvage services, but do not render any assistance to the master and crew when in distress, the day fees authorised by the last clause of Table V. in the schedule to the Act are to be charged: the £1. or 10*s.* per diem, as the case may be, is, however, not to be charged for every day during which the vessel is in the Receiver's custody, but only for such day or days as he is actually employed on service in connection with the vessel.

T. H. FARRER,
Assistant-Secretary, Marine Department.

DIRECTIONS TO MASTERS AND CREWS OF SHIPS IN CASES OF WRECK.

In the event of your vessel stranding within a short distance of the United Kingdom, and the lives of the crew being placed in danger, assistance will, if possible, be rendered from the shore in the following manner; namely,

1. A rocket or shot with a thin line attached will be fired across your vessel. Get hold of this line as soon as you can, and when you have secured it let one of the crew be separated from the rest, and, if in the daytime, wave his hat or his hand, or a flag or handkerchief; or if at night let a rocket, a blue light, or a gun be fired, or let a light be displayed over the side of the ship, and be again concealed, as a signal to those on shore:

2. When you see one of the men on shore, separated from the rest, wave a red flag, or (if at night) show a red light and then conceal it, you are to haul upon the rocket line until you get a tailed block with an endless fall rove through it:

3. Make the tail of the block fast to the mast about 15 feet above the deck, or if your masts are gone, to the highest secure part of the vessel, and when the tail block is made fast let one of the crew, separated from the rest, make the signal required by article 1 above:

4. As soon as the signal is seen on shore a hawser will be bent to the whip line, and will be hauled off to the ship by those on shore:

5. When the hawser is got on board, the crew should at once make it fast to the same part of the ship as the tailed block is made fast to, only about 18 inches higher, taking care that there are no turns of the whip line round the hawser:

6. When the hawser has been made fast on board, the signal directed by article 1 above is to be repeated:

7. The men on shore will then pull the hawser taut, and by means of the whip line will haul off to the ship a sling, cot, or life buoy, into which the person to be hauled ashore is to get and be made fast. When he is in and secure, one of the crew must be separated from the rest and again signal to the shore as directed in article 1 above. The people on shore will then haul the person in the sling to the shore, and when he has landed will haul back the empty sling to the ship for others. This operation will be repeated until all persons are hauled ashore from the shipwrecked vessel.

8. It may sometimes happen that the state of the weather and the condition of the ship will not admit of a hawser being set up, in which case a sling or life buoy will be hauled off instead, and the persons to be rescued will be hauled through the surf instead of along the hawser.

Masters and crews of shipwrecked vessels should bear in mind that the success in landing them may in a great measure depend upon their coolness, and attention to the rules here laid down; and that by attending to them many lives are annually saved by the Mortar and Rocket Apparatus on the coasts of the United Kingdom.

The system of signalling must be strictly adhered to; and all women, children, passengers, and helpless persons should be landed before the crew of the ship.

T. H. FARRER,
Assistant-Secretary, Marine Department.

NOTICE.—OFFICIAL LOG BOOKS.

It having been represented to the Board of Trade, that, in many instances, Official Log Books required to be kept by the Masters of vessels, under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, are delivered up to the Shipping Masters, at the termination of the voyages, in a very imperfect state, and that some of the entries required by the Act to be inserted therein are altogether omitted; the particular attention of Masters of vessels and others is directed to the requirements of the above-mentioned Act, in this respect, and to the penalties to which they will render themselves liable by neglecting to comply therewith.

No Forfeitures or Stoppages of Wages will be allowed unless entries of the causes justifying the deductions are made in the Official Log Books.

The clauses of the Act having reference to the entries, penalties, &c., will be found printed in pages 2 and 3 of the Official Log Books.

NOTICE TO OWNERS AND MASTERS OF STEAM VESSELS.

MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1854.

Whereas it is provided by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, that ships proceeding to sea from any place in the United Kingdom shall be provided with boats as therein mentioned: And whereas it is also thereby provided that such boats shall be kept so as to be at all times ready for use: And whereas in the case of Passenger Steamers the said Boats and their equipments are periodically inspected by surveyors appointed by the Board of Trade: And whereas it has been brought to the notice of the Board of Trade that in the intervals between such inspections the plugs and the thole pins of the said boats not being attached by lanyards are frequently lost or mislaid, and that no supply of spare plugs and thole pins is kept in the boats, and that the other equipments of the said boats are frequently removed, by reason whereof the said boats are not kept fit and ready for use as required by the said Act: And whereas by the said Act it is further provided that "if any ship hereinbefore required to be provided with boats proceeds to sea without being so provided therewith, or if any such boats are lost or rendered unfit for service in the course of the voyage through the wilful fault or negligence of the Owner or Master, or if in case any of such boats being accidentally lost or injured in the course of the voyage the Master wilfully neglects to replace or repair the same on the first opportunity, or if such boats are not kept so as to be at all times fit and ready for use, then if the Owner appears to be in fault he shall incur a penalty not exceeding £100, and if the Master appears to be in fault he shall incur a penalty not exceeding £50:"

Notice is hereby Given,

That if by reason of such neglect as aforesaid the boats of any Passenger Steam vessels are found not to be at all times fit and ready for use, steps will be taken to enforce the said penalties.

BOARD OF TRADE, September, 1856.

This Notice is to be kept posted up inside and outside the Shipping Offices and Custom Houses.

NOTICE

TO MASTERS OF PASSENGER STEAMERS.

Whereas on the investigation into the circumstances which attended the recent collision between the "Mail" and "Excelsior" steam ships in the river Mersey, it appeared in evidence that almost immediately before the accident the "Mail" had been steaming at the rate of 10 or 11 miles an hour;

And whereas the Stipendiary Magistrate and the Naval Officer who conducted that inquiry, have stated in their report to the Board of Trade that the effect of the collision might have been less serious if that vessel had taken the precaution to reduce her speed on entering the Mersey;

And whereas the Board of Trade have power to cancel or suspend the certificate of any Master or Mate "when it is duly reported to them that the loss of any ship is owing to his wrongful act or default";

The attention of the Masters of Passenger Steamers is hereby called to the very serious responsibility which will rest upon them, if they allow their steamers to run at a high speed in waters frequented by shipping.

BOARD OF TRADE, 30th September, 1856.

THE BOARD OF TRADE

Being desirous of encouraging Seamen to save their earnings, and of preventing as far as possible the risk of their losing their money after being "paid off" from their ships, have established at the Shipping Offices at the principal ports (Kirkwall, Lerwick, and Stornoway excepted).

SEAMEN'S SAVINGS BANKS

Digitized by Google

The following are a few of the advantages which Seamen will derive by depositing their money therein :—

1st. That the Seamen's money will always be safe, it being under the care of the Board of Trade.

2nd. That they can pay their deposits first at one port and then at another, just as it may suit their convenience.

3rd. That they can withdraw at any port they please the whole amount of their deposits, or can withdraw portions of their money first at one port and then at another.

4th. That the deposits, if allowed to remain in the Seamen's Savings Bank, will be increased by the interest of £3 per cent. per annum which the Board of Trade allow to depositors.

5th. That in the event of the Seaman dying without a will, any deposit or interest that may have belonged to him will be paid over to his nearest relation or legal representative.

Seamen are therefore recommended to take from the pay table sufficient only for their immediate expenses, and deposit for safety the remainder of their wages in the Seamen's Savings Bank, where it will be increased by the interest which the Board of Trade allow.

When Seamen require to withdraw any of their money, all they will have to do will be to apply to the Shipping Masters at any of the ports (excepting those above named), when the whole, or a portion, of their money will be returned, free of expense, with any interest that may be due.

The Wives, Widows, and Children of Seamen are also allowed to open accounts in the Seamen's Savings Bank. Seamen are also allowed to deposit sums of money for their children, which the children can withdraw whenever required if they are above 14 years of age.

NOTICE.

As the Act of Parliament will not allow any person to have more than one account opened at a time in the Savings Banks in the United Kingdom, the depositor, on opening a new account, will be required to sign a declaration according to the following form, and if the depositor makes a false declaration he or she will risk the loss of the whole of their money :—

"In pursuance of the Act 9 Geo. IV., c. 92, I, the undersigned, 'a Seaman,' do hereby declare, That I am desirous, in my own behalf to make my first deposit in the Seamen's Savings Bank (established under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854, 1855, and the Seamen's Savings Bank Act, 1856); and I further declare, that no account has been opened in the Seamen's Savings Bank in my name at this or any other port or ports in the United Kingdom, and that I am not entitled, directly or indirectly, to any deposit in or benefit from the funds of this or of any other savings bank in Great Britain or Ireland, nor to any other sum or sums standing in the name or names of any other person or persons in the books of the said savings bank above mentioned, except such sum or sums as may be standing in my name as trustee jointly with the name or names and on behalf of any other depositor or depositors, and except such benefit as I may be entitled to from being a member of a Friendly Society legally established.

"Witness my hand, this 1st day of October, 1856,

"James Adams."

BOARD OF TRADE, WHITEHALL, November, 1856.

CAUTION TO OWNERS AND MASTERS OF PASSENGER STEAM VESSELS.

MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1854.

Whereas it was reported to the Board of Trade that the steamer "Invincible," of Glasgow, was plying with passengers without having on board a proper and valid certificate from that Board, to the effect "that the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, with respect to the survey of that vessel and the transmission of declaration in respect thereof had been complied with," in accordance with the provisions of section 318 of the said Act:

And whereas by the said section the owner of the said vessel had rendered himself liable to a penalty of £100, and the Master of the said vessel had rendered himself liable to a penalty of £50, in allowing the said vessel to proceed on a voyage or excursion with passengers on board without having first received from the Board of Trade such valid certificate as aforesaid:

And whereas the Board of Trade thereupon caused proceedings to be instituted before the sheriff of the city of Glasgow, on the 21st October last, against John Barr, the owner, and Colin Gillies, the master of the said vessel, for recovery of the penalties aforesaid:

Now this is to give Notice,

That the said John Barr was convicted in the mitigated penalty of £50, and the said Colin Gillies in the mitigated penalty of £10.

BOARD OF TRADE, 6th November, 1856.

NEGLECTING TO USE THE LEAD.

SUSPENSION OF MASTERS' CERTIFICATES.

OFFICE OF COMMITTEE OF PRIVY COUNCIL FOR TRADE,
Marine Department, Whitehall, Nov. 3, 1856.

SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to transmit to the committee for managing the affairs of Lloyd's, the enclosed copy of a letter, addressed by this Board to the Underwriters' Association, Liverpool, in November last, on the subject of the culpability of Ship Masters in neglecting to use the lead, and I am to request that they will give publicity to the two following instances of wrecks, which have occurred within a recent period, and in which it has been reported that the accidents were attributable in a great measure to the neglect of this precaution. My Lords have suspended or cancelled the certificates of the Masters of the vessels.

The first case is that of the "Zebra" screw-steamer, which was lost near the Lizard Point, on the 22nd of July last. In reporting on this case, the Court, consisting of Mr. Mansfield, the stipendiary magistrate at Liverpool, and Capt. Schomberg, Emigration officer at that port,—stated, that they considered the omission of the use of the lead a very grave one, and one of the main causes of the loss of the ship. My Lords, therefore, suspended the certificate of Mr. W. E. Betts, the Master, for twelve months.

The second case is that of the "Brunelle," stranded near Girvan, on the 14th of September. The Local Marine Board of Greenock conducted the inquiry, and reported that the Master, Mr. Alexander L. Black, was guilty of misconduct by neglect of duty, tending to the serious damage of the ship; one important element in such neglect being the omission to use the lead. My Lords, in this instance, cancelled Mr. Black's certificate of service, and sanctioned his going up for examination for a certificate of competency, after a lapse of three months, in accordance with the recommendation of the Local Marine Board.

My Lords trust that the steps taken in these cases will tend to impress on Ship Masters the necessity of a due observance of the simple and obvious precaution, which has been so much neglected.

I am, Sir, yours &c.,
JAMES BOOTH.

To the Secretary, Lloyd's.

 The letter to which reference is made, is again published, in order to remind Captains of the consequences attached to the neglect of the use of the lead:—

November 20, 1855.

"SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, relative to the neglect of Ship Masters to use the lead, and stating that the Liverpool Underwriters' Association are of opinion that an important advantage would be gained, were this Board to issue a notice to Masters of vessels that such neglect would be considered as misconduct.

"In reply, I am to request you to inform the Underwriters' Association that my Lords have directed their serious attention to the many cases of shipwreck which have recently been investigated under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, in most of which, as they conceive, the casualty might have been avoided had the simple and obvious precaution of taking soundings been observed.

"My Lords are impressed with a belief that from a desire to avoid trouble and delay, or for other reasons, the proper use of the lead, even in thick or foggy weather, or when upon a dangerous coast, has become so habitually neglected in many branches of the Merchant Service, that Masters appear no longer to look upon it as a necessary part of their duty.

"My Lords gladly take this opportunity of expressing their decided opinion, that such conduct cannot be justified by any custom or practice, however prevalent; and the fact that this neglect has become common, affords, in their Lordships' opinion, the strongest reason for taking every possible means to check it; and they believe that there would be great public benefit and little individual hardship, in visiting with the severest penalties, persons who are found guilty of a fault so fatal in its consequences.

"My Lords have no doubt, from the terms of your letter, that the Underwriters' Association will concur with them in the views they take, and they are glad to have the opportunity of expressing those views, and of intimating, in as public a manner as possible, their intention to use all the means with which the law has intrusted them, to enforce the proper use of the lead on board Merchant Ships.

"I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,
"T. H. FARRER.

NOTICE TO MASTERS AND SEAMEN.

CERTIFICATES OF DISCHARGE.

Certificates of Discharge and Character, which are of the greatest importance to seamen and their employers, are often lost, mislaid, or destroyed, and can seldom be kept so as to show continuous good service for many years. To meet this difficulty,—to enable seamen the more easily to keep a record of their services, and to enable Masters to judge of the character of seamen they employ, a new form of Certificate of Discharge and Character has been prepared. It is on parchment, and a tin box is supplied to keep it in. It contains space for entries in respect of more than 30 voyages.

A copy of the entries will be kept, from which, if the Certificate be lost, an official copy of it may be obtained. To insure accuracy, the entries will always be made at the Shipping Office, or if abroad, at the Consulate. Persons serving in the Home Trade who are not discharged at the Shipping Office may, if the Master will attend at the nearest Shipping Office, get the entries made there. A fee of One Shilling will be required when the Certificate is first issued, to meet the expense attending it, but there will be no other charge.

Further particulars may be learnt at the Shipping Offices.

BOARD OF TRADE, WHITEHALL.
August, 1857.

CONSULAR FEES.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 1st day of May, 1855, Present, the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS, by the fourth section of the Act of the sixth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, chapter eighty-seven, intituled "An Act to regulate the payment of salaries and allowances to British Consuls at foreign ports, and the disbursements at such ports for certain public purposes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that it shall and may be lawful for all Consuls-General and Consuls appointed by His Majesty, and resident within the dominions of any sovereign or any foreign state or power in amity with His Majesty, to accept, take, and receive the several fees particularly mentioned in the tables to this said Act annexed, for and in respect or on account of the several matters and things and official acts and deeds particularly mentioned in the said schedules, and that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by any Order or Orders to be by him made, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, from time to time, as occasion may require, to increase or diminish or wholly to abolish all or any of the fees aforesaid, and to establish and authorise the payment of any greater or smaller, or new or additional fees or fee, for or in respect of the several matters and things mentioned in the said schedules or any of them, or for or in respect of any other matters or things, or matter or thing, to be by any such Consul-General or Consul, done or performed in the execution of such his office."

And whereas, by an Order in Council made on the 14th day of April, 1851, it was ordered "that whenever a British Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul should be called upon by masters of merchant ships to give his sanction in writing as to the shipment or discharge of seamen, or his certificate as to the desertion of seamen, it should be lawful for such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, to demand, recover, and receive from all masters or chief officers, or commanders of any ship or vessel belonging to any of Her Majesty's subjects, the sum of two shillings for each seaman whose shipment or discharge should have been so sanctioned, or whose desertion should have been so certified; and that it should not be lawful for such Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul to levy a larger fee for this service:"

And whereas it is expedient to abolish the fees mentioned in the tables to the said Act annexed, and in the said Order in Council of the 14th of April, 1851, and to establish and authorise the payment of other fees in lieu thereof: Now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act and in exercise of the powers in Her Majesty in Council in that behalf vested by the said Act, it is hereby ordered by Her Majesty, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, that the several fees mentioned in the tables to the said Act annexed, and in the said Order in Council of the 14th of April, 1851, shall be abolished, and that the several fees mentioned in the table hereunto annexed, for the several matters mentioned therein, shall be substituted for the fees so abolished, and shall and may be taken accordingly, subject to the directions and restrictions contained in the notes appended to the said table.

And the right honourable the Earl of Clarendon, one of Her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly. WM. L. BATHURST.

NOTICE TO MASTERS AND MATES OF HOME TRADE PASSENGER SHIPS.

MEANING THEREBY,

SHIPS employed in carrying PASSENGERS within the following Limits; viz. the UNITED KINGDOM, the Islands of GUERNSEY, JERSEY, SARK, ALDERNEY, and MAN; and the Continent of EUROPE between the River ELBE and BREST inclusive.

GENERAL CERTIFICATES OF COMPETENCY OR SERVICE.

After the 1st day of May next no Home Trade Passenger Ship will be allowed to clear out or obtain a Transire at any Port in the United Kingdom, unless the Master and Mate are in possession of a Certificate either of Competency or of Service; and these Certificates must be produced half-yearly with the Articles of the Ship to some Shipping Master. Ships of 100 tons burden and upwards must have a certificated Mate. Masters and Mates who go to sea without having the required Certificates, and Owners who knowingly employ them without such Certificates, are liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

CERTIFICATES OF SERVICE will be granted to all Masters and Mates who have served as such in Home Trade Passenger Ships prior to the 1st day of January, 1854, and may be had after the 1st day of March next, on application to the Registrar-General of Seamen, Custom House, London, on sending in a Form of Claim, properly filled up, which may be had from any Shipping Master.

CERTIFICATES OF COMPETENCY will be granted by the Board of Trade to all such Masters and Mates as pass the examination for this particular service before one of the Local Marine Boards.

The Examinations before the Local Marine Boards will commence on the 1st day of March next, and all persons desirous of passing should apply to the Shipping Masters of the respective Ports.

A Certificate of Competency for a Foreign-going Ship is by the Act made equivalent to a Certificate of equal or lower grade for a Home Trade Passenger Ship, and entitles the holder to fill the situation of Master or Mate, as the case may be, in the latter description of Ship.

Certificates of Competency for Home Trade Passengers Ships will be of two kinds only; viz., for Masters and Mates respectively.

PILOTAGE CERTIFICATES.

After the 1st day of May next every Ship carrying Passengers between any place situate in the United Kingdom, or the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man, and any other place so situate, must, during such times as she is navigating upon any waters for which Pilots are duly licensed according to Law, have a duly licensed Pilot on board, unless the Master or Mate possess a Pilotage Certificate of Service, or a Pilotage Certificate granted by some Pilotage Authority, or by the Board of Trade.

PILOTAGE CERTIFICATES OF SERVICE will be granted to all Masters who have satisfactorily piloted their own vessels for two complete years consecutively before the 1st day of May next.

In order to obtain these Certificates of Service application must be made to the Registrar-General of Seamen, Custom House, London, upon a Form which may be obtained from any Shipping Master.

OTHER PILOTAGE CERTIFICATES are to be procured only after satisfactory examination before the legally constituted Pilotage Authority for the district for which the Pilotage Certificate is required, and all persons desirous of being examined for such a Pilotage Certificate for any particular Port or District should apply to the proper Pilotage Authority for that Port or District.

The earliest possible application should be made for Certificates of Service in order that no delay or inconvenience may be caused on and after the 1st day of May next, when the Act comes into operation.

BOARD OF TRADE, 1*st February*, 1855.

NOTICE TO MASTERS AND OWNERS OF HOME TRADE SHIPS AND HOME TRADE PASSENGER SHIPS.

The Master or Owner of every Home Trade Ship must enter into a written agreement with the crew. The only exceptions are ships under 80 tons burden, employed exclusively between any place in the United Kingdom, and any other place so situate.

Every ship, of whatever tonnage, proceeding to any foreign port, within the limits of Brest and the river Elbe, must be provided with a Home Trade agreement, and also with an Official Log Book.

Agreements made at any time during the six Months next preceding the 30th day of June or the 31st day of December, are to terminate on those dates respectively in every year, and the Masters or Owners are bound, under a penalty of £5, to deposit every Agreement so made, and also the Official Log Book (if any), with some Shipping Master, within twenty-one days after the above dates, i.e., after the expiration of the Agreement.

MEMORANDUM

CONCERNING PILOTAGE CERTIFICATES UNDER THE MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1854.

BOARD OF TRADE, 7th May, 1855.

As some misconception appears to exist as to the nature and effect of Pilotage Certificates, issued by the Board of Trade, under the 355th Section of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, the following explanation is issued by direction of the Board of Trade.

By the 354th Section of the Act above referred to, Ships carrying Passengers between places situate in the United Kingdom and the Channel Islands are bound to take Pilots whether they have or have not been previously subjected to compulsory pilotage. The obligation thus imposed is a new obligation, and totally independent of local acts or regulations.

But as the above obligation has for its object to require that such Ships as aforesaid shall be navigated by persons acquainted with the local navigation, an exception is introduced in favour of those vessels in which the Masters or Mates possess certain Pilotage Certificates. These Pilotage Certificates are of two classes.

First. Certificates granted by Pilotage authorities, or by the Board of Trade, upon examination in pursuance of Sections 340 to 344.

Secondly. Certificates granted by the Board of Trade, under Section 355.

The respective effect of these two Classes of Certificate is very different. A Certificate of the former Class exempts not only from the new obligation imposed by Section 354, but also from all obligations to employ Pilots or to pay Pilotage imposed by Local Acts. A Certificate of the latter Class exempts only from the new obligation imposed by Section 354.

Any person, therefore, who obtains a Certificate of the former Class can obtain no additional exemption by a Certificate of the latter Class; nor will a Certificate of the latter Class prevent him from being liable to the payment of any Fees to Pilotage authorities lawfully demanded by them, under Local Acts or Regulations.

Where Pilotage authorities have heretofore been in the habit of granting Pilotage Certificates or Licences, particular attention should be given to Sections 340 to 344 of the Act above referred to, so that their future practice may be in accordance with those Sections; and so that the Fees demanded by them may be submitted for the approval of the Board of Trade.

CHOLERA.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CAPTAINS OF SHIPS ISSUED BY THE GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

Captains of Ships are hereby warned,—

I. WHAT TO AVOID.

OVERCROWDING.—The amount of breathing space for the men which may suffice in ordinary times is insufficient in an epidemic season. Increase space as much as practicable. Permit no sails, large trunks, or any part of the cargo to occupy the forecastle. If sufficient additional space cannot be otherwise obtained, erect a temporary tent on deck by awning, sails, &c., for the men at night, taking care that they sleep warm and dry. Ventilate the forecastle and every part of the ship with fresh air as freely as possible. Pure air is the first essential requisite to safety.

DAMPNESS.—To lessen the danger from dampness let the boards be dry-rubbed. Let the men change their wet clothes whenever practicable, and never allow the wet clothes to remain below an instant. A thick flannel belt or bandage around the stomach or loins would be a great defence for sailors. Flannels or Guernsey frocks should be worn next the skin. Sudden and violent attacks of Cholera often follow a chill.

FILTH.—Let every part of the ship be kept as clean and sweet as possible, and enjoin personal cleanliness on the men. Vessels affected by bilge water should be pumped out frequently, especially steamers.

UNWHOLESOME FOOD.—Articles of food which may be taken with little inconvenience in ordinary times may be dangerous in an epidemic season. The best articles of food are meat, good biscuits, rice, oatmeal, and good potatoes. Solid food is better than fluids, and therefore at this time it would be desirable to give the crew beef and mutton instead of soup. Care should be taken to avoid all tainted meat and decayed vegetables. Special attention should be paid to having a supply of pure water. All river water near towns should be avoided.

EXCESS.—Great moderation both in food and drink is absolutely essential to safety. A single act of indiscretion has been followed by a severe attack; intemperance at such a time is fraught with extreme danger. An epidemic atmosphere commonly produces great depression, both of body and mind, and a desire for stimulants. If for the relief of this feeling recourse be had to gin or brandy, the result may be fatal.

PURGATIVE MEDICINES.—No purgative medicines of any kind should be taken at this season—unless under medical direction. Glauber's Salts and Epsom Salts are especially dangerous. Owners and Masters should provide themselves with the necessary medicines immediately.

II. WHAT TO DO.

Cholera is commonly not so sudden in its attack as is supposed. It usually gives warning of its approach for some hours, and often for a day or two, by some degree of looseness of the bowels. This may be slight, and it is almost always without pain; but let no one be put off his guard by this circumstance. The Master should, by observation and inquiry, take notice of the health of the crew; and for his guidance, until such time as he may be able to obtain medical assistance, the following recommendations are subjoined:—

If any man should be attacked with any degree of looseness in the bowels the following medicine should be given to him at once: Fifteen or Twenty grains of Opiate confection, mixed with Two tablespoonfuls of Peppermint water, or with a little weak brandy and water warm. This should be repeated every three or four hours, or oftener if the attack is severe. If this medicine is not at hand, Eight or Ten drops of Laudanum may be substituted for the Opiate confection.

If the purging is severe, and especially if attended with vomiting or coldness, the man should go to bed immediately, and be kept warm. Bottles of hot water, or bags filled with hot salt or bran, should be applied to the stomach and feet and along the spine.

A large poultice of mustard and vinegar should be put over the stomach, and kept on fifteen or twenty minutes. The above medicines should be continued every hour, or every two or three hours, according to the emergency of the case, until a doctor can be got. Rest and warmth in bed are essential until medical assistance arrives; but not a moment should be lost in seeking medical aid.

OFFICIAL NUMBERS OF MERCHANT SHIPS.

CUSTOM HOUSE, LONDON,
9th April, 1855.

Notice is hereby Given,

That the New System of Registry for British Ships under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, will come into operation on the 1st May next; but in order to facilitate the Appropriation of Official Numbers to British Ships, instructions have been furnished to the principal Officers of the Customs at the various Ports of the United Kingdom to commence the appropriation on the 16th instant; and on the production to such Officers, at any of the said Ports, of the Certificate of Registry of any Ship, an Official Number will be appropriated and affixed thereto; and as the object to be attained is the better identification of British Ships, it is desirable that the Masters should present the Certificates of Registry at the first Port at which they shall arrive on and after the 16th instant.

By Order of the Commissioners,
W. MACLEAN, Secretary.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty having been pleased to direct the Captains and Commanders of her Majesty's ships to make reports of all the Merchant Vessels they meet at Sea which signalise their Official Numbers, Masters of Merchant Vessels desirous of availing themselves of this regulation, in order that their Names may be published in the Shipping Lists, should provide the Four Flags which represent the Signal Letters appropriated to them in the commercial code of Signals for the use of all Nations, which has been sanctioned by the Board of Trade.

OFFICE OF COMMITTEE OF PRIVY COUNCIL FOR TRADE,
MARINE DEPARTMENT,
WHITEHALL, December 9th, 1857.

SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to acquaint you, that the Registrar-General of Seamen has brought under the notice of this Board, that it might be found of advantage in carrying out the object of the New Code of Signals and the Mercantile Navy List, if the distinguishing Signal of a British Vessel were indorsed on her Register, conjointly with the Official Number, when appropriated by the Registrar of Shipping.

At present the Registrars are unable to furnish the four letters representing the Flags which make the Signals corresponding with the Official Number, because the unappropriated numbers are not all published in the Mercantile Navy List, and they have no means of finding the Signals by a Table or otherwise.

To obviate this difficulty the Registrar of Seamen has, with my Lords' approval, determined to publish in the Mercantile Navy List for 1858, so many of the unappropriated official numbers and their corresponding Signals, as are likely to be required for the year following the publication, and to continue to do so in each annual edition of the List.

My Lords therefore request, that you will move the Commissioners of Customs, should they see no reason to object, to issue directions to all Registrars at home, to furnish, by indorsement on each Ship's Register, her distinguishing Signal at the time she receives her Official Number.

As soon as the Instructions are prepared for home use, copies can be sent to the Colonial Office for distribution among Registrars in the Colonies.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,

T. H. FARRER.

The Secretary of Customs.

CUSTOM HOUSE, LONDON,
19th December, 1857.

The afore-going copy of a Letter from Mr. Farrer, Secretary to the Marine Department at the Board of Trade, is transmitted to the Collector and Comptroller at ——— for their guidance.

By Order of the Commissioners,

F. G. GARDNER.

COPY OF A MINUTE OF THE BOARD OF CUSTOMS OF THE 9TH JANUARY, 1858.

THE Board have had under consideration a Letter from the Registrar-General of Seamen to the Board of Trade, dated the 31st ultimo, suggesting, with reference to the Instructions issued by the General Order, No. $\frac{113}{1857}$, requiring the distinguishing signal of a British Ship to be indorsed on her Certificate of Registry conjointly with the official number, when appropriated by the Registrar of Shipping, that it would greatly conduce to the establishment of a system under which every vessel could make known her identity by one special signal if the Letters were also indorsed upon existing Certificates of Registry;

The Board direct, that the Signal Letters found in the Mercantile Navy List, appropriated to the respective Official Numbers of Ships already registered, be indorsed by the Registrar upon existing Certificates of Registry when the same are presented for the purpose of reporting or clearing the vessel.

And Copies of this Minute are to be delivered to the Collector at this Port and transmitted to the Collector and Comptrollers at the Out-Ports for their information and guidance.

CUSTOM HOUSE, LONDON,
14th January, 1858.

Present, the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS ships arriving from foreign parts at ports or places within the United Kingdom, and proceeding in ballast to other ports or places within the United Kingdom, for the purpose of taking on board cargo for delivery within the United Kingdom are not exempted from compulsory pilotage when so navigating in ballast.

And whereas it is expedient that such ships should have the privilege of being exempt from compulsory pilotage.

And whereas by the 332nd section of the "Merchant Shipping Act, 1854," it is enacted, that "every pilotage authority shall have power, by bye-law, made with the consent of Her Majesty in Council, to exempt the Masters of any ships, or of any classes of ships, from being compelled to employ qualified pilots, and to annex any terms and conditions to such exemptions."

And whereas the Trinity House, being a pilotage authority, hath submitted, for the consent of Her Majesty in Council, the following bye-law, videlicet:—

That the owner or Master of the ship claiming exemption from such compulsory pilotage shall provide himself with a certificate of such exemption for the particular voyage therein specified; such certificate to be signed by the secretary or other proper officer of the Trinity House, and to be delivered to the owner or master of such ship, upon his making a declaration, setting forth that the said ship last arrived from foreign parts, and is about to navigate in ballast to some port or place in the United Kingdom, for the purpose of taking on board cargo, for delivery at another port or place, also in the United Kingdom, and such ports or places being named in such declaration. And further, that the master of such ship shall produce the said certificate, to any duly licensed Trinity House pilot, who shall offer his services to pilot such ship on such voyage; and such master shall on every such occasion, make an entry in the ship's log, of the offer by a Trinity House pilot; of the certificate of exemption having been produced to the said pilot; and of his services having been declined.

2. That in every case in which a certificate of exemption shall have been obtained by misrepresentation, the person on whose application such certificate shall have been granted, shall forfeit double the amount of the pilotage to which the ship so exempted would, but for such certificate, have been liable; to be recovered in like manner as penalties are recoverable under the said Act; and
3. That in every case in which a ship, for which a certificate of exemption has been granted, shall proceed over sea, either before or after arriving at the port or place specified in such certificate, without navigating with cargo to some other port or place in the United Kingdom, the pilotage to which such ship would have been liable, had a pilot been employed, shall be paid to the pilotage authority or sub-commissioners of the district, and be applied to the purposes of the pilotage fund."

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said bye-law into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, and by virtue of the power vested in her by the said recited Act, to declare her consent to the same, and the said bye-law is hereby approved accordingly.

NOTICE TO OWNERS AND MASTERS.

THE ATTENTION OF OWNERS AND MASTERS OF HOME TRADE SHIPS

Is hereby called to the second part of the 162nd Section of the "Merchant Shipping Act, 1854," which provides that "within 21 days after the 30th day of June, and 31st day of December, in every Year, they shall transmit or deliver to some Shipping Master in the United Kingdom, every agreement made within the six calendar months next preceding such days respectively;" and shall also in the case of produce to the Shipping Master the Certificates of Competency or Service, which the said Master and his first or only Mate, as the case may be, are required to possess.

And it is further provided, that "if the Agreement of any Home Trade Ship is not delivered or transmitted by the Master or Owner to a Shipping Master at the time and in the manner above directed, such Master or Owner shall for every default incur a penalty not exceeding FIVE POUNDS."

As much irregularity in these respects is constantly occurring, notice is hereby given that strict orders are issued to the various officers of Customs not to grant a Clearance or Transire for any such Ship as aforesaid, without the production of a Certificate certifying that these Documents have been delivered up or produced, as above directed.

BOARD OF TRADE, WHITEHALL,
March 1859.

NOTICE TO MASTERS OF SHIPS.

ENTRIES IN OFFICIAL LOG BOOKS.

Considerable inconvenience having been experienced in consequence of the neglect of Ship Masters to make in their Official Log Books the entries required by the Merchant Shipping Act, the attention of Masters is called to the sections of the Act which are given in the Second and Third Pages of the Official Log Book.

Especial attention is directed to the following points:—

Every neglect or omission to make the entries required by Act, subjects the Master to a penalty not exceeding £5.

Every neglect or omission to enter an offence deprives the Master of his ordinary powers of enforcing punishment for such offence on his return, whether by imprisonment, forfeiture of wages, or otherwise.

Every neglect or omission to enter deductions from the wages of seamen who die, prevents the Master and his Owners from obtaining the benefit of such deductions.

The Shipping Masters have orders to verify all statements respecting fines, forfeitures, dead men's wages, discharges or desertions, by reference to the Official Log Book; and to report all cases whenever such entries do not occur in proper form with the proper signatures of the attesting parties.

NOTICE TO SHIP OWNERS AND MASTERS.

FORMALITIES ENJOINED BY THE TURKISH AUTHORITIES FOR VESSELS PASSING THROUGH THE DARDANELLES.

The Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a despatch and its inclosures from Lord Stratford de Redcliffe, calling attention to the disregard shown by British Ship Masters to the regulations laid down by the Turkish authorities for all ships passing through the Dardanelles.

Shipowners and Masters are accordingly cautioned, that the facilities which were temporarily granted to transports passing through the Dardanelles during the late war have been withdrawn, and that vessels are now required as formerly to stop at the Dardanelles for the purpose of completing the necessary formalities, and of delivering the Firmans granted to them at Constantinople.

Hitherto, upon the non-observance of these regulations, the Turkish authorities have been in the habit of firing blank cartridge to attract the attention of vessels passing by the forts; but as this lenient mode of proceeding has not had the desired effect, the Pacha in command has signified to Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople his determination no longer to tolerate such unwarrantable and manifestly wilful irregularities, and has ordered that (after allowing a reasonable time for the notification to masters of steam vessels and their agents at Constantinople of his intention) shotted guns shall be fired into any vessel attempting to evade the regulations in question.

16th.—The Galley Fire is to be extinguished at 8 p.m., and not lighted before 6 a.m. The Funnels are to be daily carefully examined and swept.

17th.—All Boats, unless required for the service, are to be hoisted up at 9 p.m., and on no account to be lowered unless ordered by the Master, or in his absence the Mate,

18th.—When the Vessel is unloaded, safely moored, and not immediately wanted, the Master, Mate and Crew, will be permitted, in turn, occasionally to be with their families (when the weather will allow), but Steamers are never to be left without the Master or Mate, one Engineer, one Seaman, one Stoker, and one Boy; nor Sailing Vessels without either the Master or Mate, and one Seaman on Board, nor is any person to absent himself at any time without express permission from the Senior Military Store Officer at the Station.

19th.—Each Vessel will be furnished with two Red Flags, as many Pairs of Magazine Slippers as there are men in crew, and a like number of Pairs of Trowsers and Frocks, for working in the Hold, but not to be worn at any other period; these Articles will be supplied upon the Master making a requisition for them to the Senior Military Store Officer of the Station to which the Vessel belongs.

20th.—When absent from his own Station, or meeting with any Accident at Sea, whereby the safety of the Vessel is endangered, or delay likely to be occasioned, the Master is to report immediately to the Senior Military Store Officer at the Station to which he belongs, and apply for assistance to the nearest Military Storekeeper, Ship, or Dock-yard belonging to Her Majesty.

21st.—The Master will be held strictly responsible that the service upon which his vessel is employed is performed with the utmost dispatch; and in the event of his being obliged to seek shelter, that no unnecessary delay is allowed to take place before again proceeding on his voyage. The circumstance is to be immediately reported to the Senior Military Store Officer to whom the stores are consigned.

22nd.—The Master is authorised to draw half a Month's Pay, in the event of his voyage being prolonged, by adverse Winds or unforeseen circumstances, beyond the Month in which he was originally loaded; the circumstances to be immediately reported to the Senior Military Store Officer at the Station to which the Vessel belongs.

23rd.—Every man or boy employed in this service is to devote himself exclusively to it, and the Master will be held responsible for the conduct of the Mate and Crew, and in the event of any disobedience of his orders by them he is to report, in writing, to the Senior Military Store Officer at the Station to which he belongs.

24th.—Any Master, Mate, or Man wishing to leave the Service, must give three days' notice, or forfeit pay for a similar time.

25th.—When removing the Armament of any of Her Majesty's Ships, the Master is to use his utmost endeavours to prevent any article of Naval Stores being put on board his Vessel with the Stores of this Department. In the event of his observing any article of Naval Stores amongst the War Department Stores, he will immediately report the circumstance to the Officer commanding the Ship from which the Armament is being removed.

26th.—On all occasions before casting off, after receiving Stores from any of H. M. Ships alongside the Dock-yard, the Master will apprise the Dockyard Police in order that his Vessel may be searched. Should the Ship be in the stream, he will ask the Officer commanding to send the Master-at-Arms on board his Vessel to make the examination; he will then lock the Hatch, and retain the key in his own possession, until his Vessel comes alongside the Gun Wharf to unload.

27th.—The Master will make out an Inventory of all the standing and running rigging, masts, blocks, anchors, cables, (stating the length of the cables), sails, and all spare stores, &c.

28th.—He will transmit Demands from time to time for such Stores as may be requisite, returning the old Stores to the Military Storekeeper, to show that they have been fairly worn out.

29th.—The Master will periodically examine the Forecastle, and report to the Military Storekeeper any article of Public Stores found therein other than those belonging to the Vessel.

30th.—All Stores belonging to the Vessels are to be clearly marked W ⚓ D.

31st.—Periodical surveys will be held by an Officer of the Military Store Department, in order to ascertain that the Stores are correct; and the Master will be held strictly responsible for all the Stores placed in his charge as shown by the Inventory. The Military Storekeeper is to report having held the survey.

To Military Store Officers in charge of Stations, and to the Masters of the War Department Vessels.

RESERVE FORCE OF ROYAL NAVAL VOLUNTEERS.

HER MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT having, with the sanction of Parliament, determined on establishing a Reserve Volunteer Force of Seamen trained to the use of Arms:

This is to give Notice,

That any Seaman possessing the following qualifications may be inrolled as a Royal Naval Volunteer in the Reserve Force, and will thereupon be entitled to the advantages and be subject to the obligations mentioned below:—

QUALIFICATIONS FOR THE RESERVE.

1. A Volunteer must be a British subject:
2. He must be free from infirmity:
3. He must not be over thirty-five years of age: *
4. He must within the ten years previous to his joining the Reserve have been five years at sea, one year of that time as an A.B.

ADVANTAGES OF THE RESERVE.

1. A Volunteer will at once receive an annual payment or retainer of 6*l.*, payable quarterly:
2. He will, if he fulfils his obligations and is in the Reserve the requisite time, receive a pension of not less than 12*l.* a year whenever he becomes incapacitated from earning a livelihood, or at sixty years of age if not previously incapacitated:
3. He may elect either to take the whole pension himself, or to take a smaller pension for himself during his life, and to allow his wife a pension after his death, for the remainder of her life:
4. He will not, on account of belonging to the Reserve, forfeit any interest in any Friendly or Benefit Society:
5. His travelling expenses to and from the place of drill will, when necessary, be provided:
6. He will, during drill, receive, in addition to the retaining fee, the same pay, victualling, and allowances as a seaman of the fleet:
7. He will, if called out on actual service, receive the same pay, allowances, and victuals, and have the same prospect of promotion and prize money, as a continuous service seaman of the fleet, and he will on joining receive the same clothing, bedding, and mess traps:
8. He will, if wounded or injured in actual service, receive the same pension as a seaman in the Navy of the same rating:
9. He will be eligible to the Coast Guard Service and Greenwich Hospital:
10. He may quit the Reserve if not at the time called out for actual service, at the end of every five years; he may also quit it, when not called out, on paying back the retainers he has received; or, without payment, if he passes an examination as a Master or Mate, and obtains bonâ fide employment as Master or Mate.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE RESERVE.

1. A Volunteer must attend drill for twenty-eight days each year; he may do so, so far as the convenience of the public service will permit, at a time and place convenient to himself; but he cannot in any case take less than seven days' drill at any one time:
2. He must not, without special permission, proceed on a voyage that will occupy more than six months:
3. He must appear before some Shipping Master once in every six months, unless he has leave to be abroad longer, and he must report every change of residence and employment.
4. In order to earn a pension he must continue in the Reserve as long as he is physically competent to serve, and he must also have been in the force fifteen years if engaged above thirty, or twenty years if engaged under thirty. In reckoning this time, actual service in the fleet will count double:
5. Volunteers may be called upon, for actual service in the Navy, by Royal Proclamation. It is intended to exercise this power only when an emergency requires a sudden increase in the Naval Force of the country:
6. A Volunteer may in the first instance be called out for three years. If there is then actual war, and he is then serving in one of Her Majesty's ships, he may be required to serve for two years longer: but for the additional two years he will receive 2*d.* a day additional pay:
7. Volunteers when on drill or actual service will be subject to naval discipline:
8. A Volunteer who fails to fulfil the obligations of the Reserve will forfeit his claim to Retainer and Pension, and if he fails to join when called out for actual service may be treated as a Straggler or Deserter from the Navy.

THE INROLMENT WILL COMMENCE ON 1ST JANUARY, 1860.

FULL INFORMATION AND DETAILED CONDITIONS

May be obtained on application to the Shipping Master at any Port in the United Kingdom, or to the Officers of Customs in the Channel Islands and Isle of Man.

LEAVE FOR LONG VOYAGES.

Special leave for voyages exceeding six months will be granted to ALL VOLUNTEERS on the following conditions:—

1. The leave is to be for one ship, and for one voyage only at a time, and to be renewed for each voyage. The ports or countries at which the ship is to touch must be all specified, or if any of these are not specified the voyage must be limited by the articles to twelve months.
2. The Volunteer must have completed his twenty-eight days' drill for the year before the leave will be given.
3. On an emergency the Reserve may be called out for service at home or abroad. If the Volunteer is then abroad, he must, if summoned, join any of H. M. ships abroad; under the same penalties, in case of refusal, as in case of refusal to join in the United Kingdom.
4. The arrears of Retainer due will be paid on the Volunteer's return in the ship for which leave is given.
5. The Admiralty reserve power to withhold this leave if at any time on an emergency the Volunteers are required for the defence of the country. They also reserve power to withhold the leave at the end of each Volunteer's first five years of service, when he may, if he pleases, quit the force.
6. Subject to these reservations, it is the intention of the Admiralty to grant leave upon the above conditions for the first five years of the service of each Volunteer who joins the Reserve under the present Regulations.

ADMIRALTY NOTICE RESPECTING LIGHTS AND FOG SIGNALS TO BE CARRIED AND USED BY SEA-GOING VESSELS, TO PREVENT COLLISION.

BY THE COMMISSIONERS FOR EXECUTING THE OFFICE OF LORD HIGH ADMIRAL OF THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND, &c.

BY virtue of the power and authority vested in us, we hereby revoke, as from and after the thirtieth day of September, 1858, the regulations made and published by us on the first day of May, 1852, relating to the Lights to be carried by Sea-going Vessels to prevent collision: And we hereby make the following regulations, and require and direct that the same be strictly observed and carried into effect on and after the first day of October, 1858.

STEAM VESSELS.

All Sea-going Steam Vessels, when under Steam, shall, between sunset and sunrise, exhibit the following Lights:

1. A bright White Light at the Foremast Head.
   A Green Light on the Starboard side.
   A Red Light on the Port Side.

2. The Mast-head Light shall be so constructed as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least 5 miles, and shall show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, and it shall be so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz.: from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side.

3. The Green Light on the Starboard side and the Red Light on the Port side shall be so constructed as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least 2 miles, and show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, and they shall be so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the Starboard and on the Port sides respectively.

4. The side Lights are to be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent the lights from being seen across the bow.

5. Steam Vessels under Sail only, are not to carry their masthead Light.

FOG SIGNALS.

All Sea-going Steam Vessels, whether propelled by paddles or screws, when their steam is up, and when under way, shall in all cases of Fog use as a Fog Signal a Steam Whistle, placed before the Funnel at not less than 8 feet from the deck, which shall be sounded once at least every five minutes; but when the steam is not up, they shall use a Fog Horn or Bell, as ordered for Sailing Ships.

SAILING VESSELS.

1. All Sea-going Sailing Vessels when under-way or being towed, shall between sunset and sunrise exhibit a Green Light on the Starboard side and a Red Light on the Port side of the vessel, and such Lights shall be so constructed as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, from right a-head to 2 points abaft the beam on the Starboard and on the Port sides respectively.

2. The Coloured Lights shall be fixed whenever it is practicable so to exhibit them; and shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the Light, so as to prevent the Lights being seen across the bow.

3. When the Coloured Lights cannot be fixed (as in the case of small vessels in bad weather), they shall be kept on deck between sunset and sunrise, and on their proper sides of the vessel, ready for instant exhibition, and shall be exhibited in such a manner as can be best seen on the approach of, or to, any other vessel or vessels, in sufficient time to avoid collision, and so that the Green Light shall not be seen on the Port side, nor the Red Light on the Starboard side.

FOG SIGNALS.

All Sea-going Sailing Vessels, when under-way, shall, in all cases of Fog, use when on the Starboard Tack a Fog Horn, and when on the Port Tack shall Ring a Bell. These signals shall be sounded once at least every five minutes.

SAILING PILOT VESSELS are to carry only a White Light at the Mast-head, and are to exhibit a Flare-up Light every 15 minutes, in accordance with Trinity House regulation.

VESSELS AT ANCHOR.

All Sea-going Vessels when at anchor in roadsteads or fairways, shall between sunset and sunrise exhibit where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a White Light in a Globular Lantern of 8 inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light all round the horizon, at a distance of at least 1 mile.

Given under our hands this 24th day of February, 1858.

CHARLES WOOD.
R. S. DUNDAS.

By Command of their Lordships,
W. G. ROMAINE, Secretary.

The following Diagrams are intended to illustrate the use of the Lights carried by vessels at sea, and the manner in which they indicate to the vessel which sees them the position and description of the vessel which carries them:—

FIRST.—When both Red and Green Lights are seen:

A sees a Red and Green Light ahead;—A knows that a vessel is approaching her on a course directly opposite to her own, as B.

If A sees a White Mast-head Light above the other two, she knows that B is a steam-vessel.

Digitized by Google

SECOND.—When the Red, and not the Green Light is seen:

A sees a Red Light ahead or on the bow:—A knows that either,

1, a vessel is approaching her on her port bow, as B; or 2, a vessel is crossing in some direction to port, as D D D.

If A sees a White Mast-head Light above the Red Light, A knows that the vessel is a steam vessel and is either approaching her in the same direction, as B, or is crossing to port in some direction, as D D D.

THIRD.—When the Green, and not the Red Light is seen:

A sees a Green Light ahead or on the bow;—A knows that either,

1, a vessel is approaching her on her starboard bow, as B; or 2, a vessel is crossing in some direction to starboard, as D D D.

If A sees a White Mast-head Light above the Green Light, A knows that the vessel is a steam-vessel, and is either approaching her in the same direction as B, or is crossing to starboard in some direction, as D D D.

COMMANDER STUDDERT, R.N., Inspecting Commander of Coast Guard, Newcastle, Ireland, for saving three lives from the "Martin" of Larne. Pecuniary rewards were also granted to the men under his command.

NUMBER OF LIVES LOST DURING THE YEAR 1856, COMPARED WITH THE FOUR PRECEDING YEARS.

By the Returns made during the Year 1856 it appears that of the total number of persons on board ships to which casualties have happened on the coasts of the United Kingdom, the Lives of 2,764 were imperilled, of which number 521, or 18·85 per cent., were Lost; viz.:—

Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	April.	May.	June.	July.	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.	Total
41	152	40	15	26	—	14	22	122	20	9	60	521

The Total Number of Lives reported as having been Lost during the last Five Years—

920	689	1,549	469	521	4,148	829·6

From this it will be seen that the Wreck experience of the Year 1856 has been extremely favourable to Life, as contrasted with every year but the year 1855, over which there is a slight increase, the numbers being—

399 less than 1852,
168 „ 1853,
1,028 „ 1854,
52 more than 1855.

It is remarkable that the great decrease in the number of lives lost in 1855 and 1856 is concurrent with the changes effected by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

LONDON, 26*th July*, 1859.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty hereby give notice, that on and after the 1st day of August, 1859, two red leading lights will be exhibited at the head of Braye harbour, on the north coast of Alderney, to mark the fairway channel into the harbour.

The lower light will be a fixed light, placed on the parapet of the old pier at Braye at an elevation of 25 feet above the level of high water at ordinary springs, and should be visible in clear weather from a distance of about 5 or 6 miles. It will be screened in the direction of the dangers on either side of the harbour.

The upper light, also fixed, will be placed at the north-east corner of Braye Reading room, about S. W. by W., distant 370 yards from the lower light. It will be elevated 55 feet above high water, and visible at about 8 or 9 miles to seaward.

DIRECTIONS.—In approaching Braye harbour from the north-east by night, shape a course direct for the red lights, allowing for the set of the tide. Coming from the north-west and north do not bring the Casquets to the northward of West until the Braye lights are brought in line, about S.W. by W.

On approaching from the southward or from the Race of Alderney, steer to pass about 3 miles from Cape de la Hague light, not hauling to the westward until it bears S.E. by E. Cape de la Hague light kept on this bearing, or the Casquets kept just open north of Burhou island, W. by N., will clear the dangers off the north-east end of Alderney, and lead up to the Braye lights, which must be brought in line before shutting the Casquets in with Burhou.

Steer in with the Braye lights in line until the Casquets are obscured by the parapet of the breakwater, when if bound higher up the harbour open the lights a little either way in order to avoid the Half-tide rock, which is marked by a beacon. The lower light, however, must not be lost sight of, or the lights opened more than quarter of a point, on account of the rocky patches of the Aiguilions and off Roselle point on the south, or off the breakwater on the north.

The bearings are magnetic. Variation 22° West in 1859.

By Command of their Lordships,
JOHN WASHINGTON,
Hydrographer.

FLASHING LIGHT ON CAPE SCHANCK.

HYDROGRAPHIC OFFICE, ADMIRALTY,
LONDON, 19*th October*, 1859.

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 27a, dated 3rd May, 1858, the Department of Trade and Customs at Melbourne, Victoria, has given Notice, that on and after the 30th day of June, 1859, a light would be exhibited from the lighthouse recently erected on Cape Schanck, the southern extremity of the peninsula separating Port Philip from Port Western, on the north shore of Bass Strait, south coast of Australia.

The light is a fixed white light, varied every two minutes by a bright flash, and is visible from a vessel seaward when bearing between W. ¼ N. and S.E. ¼ E. The light at the distance of 8 miles and upwards (according to the state of the atmosphere) will appear as a steady light for the space of one minute, be suddenly eclipsed for twenty-five seconds, then exhibit a bright flash for about ten seconds, and be again eclipsed for twenty-five seconds, when the steady light will re-appear. When within about 6 miles of the light the eclipses will be scarcely observable, a continued faint light being at that distance, in clear weather, seen between the intervals of the bright flashes. The light is elevated 328 feet above the mean level of the sea, and in ordinary weather may be seen from a distance of 23 miles.

FIXED LIGHT ON WILSON PROMONTORY.

Hydrographic Office, Admiralty,
London, 19*th October*, 1859.

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 27a, dated 3rd May, 1858, the Department of Trade and Customs at Melbourne, Victoria, has given Notice, that on and after the 15th July, 1859, a light would be exhibited from the lighthouse recently erected on Wilson Promontory, the southernmost point of Australia, Bass Strait.

The light is a fixed white light, and will be visible from a vessel seaward when bearing between S.S.W. and E.N.E., excepting that by the intervention of the adjacent islands the light will be eclipsed upon the undermentioned bearings, and for a few degrees on either side of them:—When bearing N.E. by E. ½ E., the light will be eclipsed by the south part of Cleft island; when N. ½ E., by centre of Rodondo island; when N. ½ W., by Ten-foot rock; when N.W. ½ N., by West Moncur island; when N.W. ¾ W., by East Moncur island; when S.W. ¼ S., by Cliffy or South Seal island; when S.W. by S., by North Seal island; and when S.S.W. ¼ W., by Cape Wellington. The light is elevated 342 feet above the mean level of the sea, and should be seen in clear weather from a distance of 24 miles.

The illuminating apparatus is dioptric, or by lenses of the first order.

The light-tower is circular, built of stone, and painted white. It stands on the south-eastern part of the promontory in about lat. 39° 8′ S., long. 146° 23′ E.

Directions.—Vessels steering through Bass Strait, or from Port Phillip, bound eastward round Wilson Promontory, may first see the light through the space between Cleft island and the southern Glennie island, bearing E.N.E.; as they proceed to the southward and eastward it will be eclipsed for a few degrees by Cleft island; when it bears N.E. the channel between the latter island and Rodondo island will be open, and they may steer direct for the promontory.

Vessels to the eastward of the Seal islands, and bound round the promontory, sighting the light bearing to the southward of S.W., will be to the northward of the fairway, and should haul out until the light bears S.W. by W.; by keeping the light on the latter bearing it will lead clear of the Cliffy and the other Seal islands.

The bearings are magnetic. Variation 9° East in 1859.

By Command of their Lordships,

JOHN WASHINGTON,
Hydrographer.

The lighthouse, built of stone and coloured grey, stands near the flagstaff on Battery hill, and its approximate position is lat. 38° 22′ S., long. 141° 39′ East of Greenwich. From the lighthouse the eastern extreme of the Lawrence rocks bears S.E., distant about 4 miles; the extreme north point of Whalers bluff N.W. by N. 1 mile; and the buoy on Whalers reef N. by W. ½ W. 1 mile.

CAUTION.—Vessels bound to Portland bay from the westward must be careful, in rounding the Lawrence rocks, not to bring the light on Battery hill to bear to the northward of N. W. by W. ½ W. After passing the rocks, a course may be shaped for the light, keeping it on the port bow, and not standing into a less depth than 6 fathoms. When abreast the anchorage, the jetty light (which at the exhibition of this light was altered in colour from red to green) will be visible bearing West.

Caution.—The mariner is particularly requested to note the distinctive feature between the Port Fairy light and the Cape Otway light, the latter being white, and varied by a flash every minute.

No stranger should attempt to pick up the Port Fairy light in thick weather, nor enter the port at night. When working in shore to the westward of the port, be careful not to bring the light to bear to the eastward of E.N.E.; nor should the light be approached nearer than a mile until it bears W. by S. when a N.W. by W. course may be steered for the roadstead. When it bears S. by W. ½ W., anchor in 6½ or 7 fathoms water; do not bring the light to the southward of this bearing, to avoid fouling the moorings.

Information has been received at the Admiralty that the stone Beacon [62 feet high], which was erected on the North West Cay of the Hogsty Reef towards the end of the year 1858, has been levelled to about six feet of the ground by the hurricane which passed over it in October 1859.

Orders have been given for the immediate rebuilding of the Beacon.

The North West Cay is in lat. 21° 42′ N., long. 73° 51′ West of Greenwich, and bears N. by W. ½ W. distant 41 miles from the west extreme of Great Inagua island, and S.E. ½ E. 37 miles from the west end of Castle island.

The bearings are magnetic. Variation 3¼° East in 1859.

TRINITY HOUSE NOTICES.

GUNPOWDER.—CAUTION.

NOTICE TO MASTERS OF VESSELS, PILOTS, AND ALL OTHER PERSONS NAVIGATING THE RIVER THAMES.

TRINITY HOUSE, LONDON,
5th September, 1855.

Whereas it has been represented to this Corporation, that the cautionary Notice, which was issued from this House, dated the 6th June, 1828, is disregarded, and that very serious apprehensions of danger are entertained by the Officers of Her Majesty's Ordnance, from the incautious practice of Steam Vessels making up their Fires when in proximity to the Ordnance Magazines at Purfleet, and also from their passing close to Windward of Vessels filled with Powder off that place, when such vessels are in the act of unloading; and it being essentially necessary that the utmost caution should be used for avoidance of danger, not only on the part of persons having the direction of Steam Vessels, but also by those in charge of all vessels navigating the River Thames;

Masters of vessels, Pilots, and other persons, are hereby directed and strictly enjoined to observe the following regulations, viz.:—

As respects both Steam and Sailing Vessels, and also Barges and other Craft, not to approach any vessel, at the Mast Head of which the distinguishing Mark of a Red Flag, denoting Gunpowder on board, shall be displayed:—

And, as respects Steam Vessels in particular, that in addition to the foregoing, the Fires be not, on any account, made up when passing, or in proximity to, the Ordnance Magazines at Purfleet, or when passing to windward of Vessels on board of which the Red Flag aforesaid is displayed.

As a further measure of precaution, Pilots and other persons having charge of vessels freighted with Powder, and which draw more water than admits of their entrance into the Ordnance Creek at Purfleet, are hereby directed to anchor such vessels in Aveley Hole, where they will lie out of the regular or necessary track of vessels traversing the River.

All persons herein concerned are hereby cautioned, that all such penalties as are, or may be, by law imposed, will be strictly enforced against all such persons as shall fail in observing the foregoing regulations.

J. HERBERT, Secretary.

MITCHELL'S MARITIME REGISTER:

A WEEKLY JOURNAL OF SHIPPING AND COMMERCE.

PRICE FOURPENCE.

Published every Saturday Morning, in Time for the Early Trains.

MITCHELL'S MARITIME REGISTER contains a digest of the Shipping Reports and Commercial incidents of the week:—viz., Lists of Ships Loading, Homeward-bound Ships, Ships Arrived Home, Ships sailed for Distant Ports, Ships Arrived Out, Ships Spoken, Casualties, Wrecks, Rates of Freight, Law and Police Reports, together with a summary of Foreign, Colonial, and General News, received by Telegraph, up to the hour of publication.

The arrangements of the Shipping movements and incidents of the week may be thus briefly explained: Under the head of "Homeward-bound" will be found a record of ships now on their passage home from all parts of the globe, with their dates of sailing, from which may be calculated their probable dates of arrival—any detention on the voyage being duly noted. This is followed by the heading "Ships arrived Home," under which are registered the arrivals during the week at the various home Ports. The ships' names being arranged alphabetically, the information sought as to an expected arrival will be seen at a glance. In short, either the one or the other of these two compilations will immediately satisfy inquiry: since, if the ship be not recorded among the arrivals home, she will still be found in the list of homeward-bound. "Ships sailed for distant Ports," with their destinations and dates of departure form the next heading. This is followed by another division of the news, under the head of "Ships arrived at distant Ports," with their dates of arrival, compiled from the reports received during the week from the Correspondents of the establishment in all parts of the globe. The arrangement of these being also alphabetical, the lists can be easily consulted. The other divisions of the Shipping news speak for themselves. The valuable reports, furnished by the Captains of "Ships Spoken" at sea, and other incidents of the voyage, will be readily recognised and appreciated; and the respective headings of "Shipping Casualties" and "Ships Wrecked" furnish the complement to the Maritime reports of the week. But another feature of Ship news will be found in the "REGISTER," which is indispensable to Merchants, Consignees, Shippers, and Emigrants of all classes. Under the head of "Register of Ships Loading," are given lists of Ships on the berths for freight or passage, in London and Liverpool, containing the names of the Ships, Captains, and Brokers, or Owners, and where bound. A variety of other information connected with our Merchant Shipping is furnished under appropriate heads; such as rates of Freight and Charters, reports of Legal Decisions, &c., &c., to which further reference need not be made.

The Commercial features of MITCHELL'S MARITIME REGISTER are arranged on the same principle as are those relating to ships—namely, with a view to afford easy reference to the greatest amount of authentic Trade Intelligence compressed within the smallest amount of space. The "Trade Register of Prices Current" comprises the current quotations of almost every marketable article, whether it be cotton, corn, coir, hemp, timber, metals, or provisions; and the various market reports are furnished by experienced and accredited hands. The General News of the Week, condensed and classified, will be found to form a register of passing events, Political, Foreign, and Domestic.

May be had of any Newsman, or of the Publisher, 54, Gracechurch Street, London, who will forward the Paper by post on the receipt of Five Postage Stamps. Price 4d., or by post 5s. 5d. per Quarter.

CHARLES KNIGHT'S POPULAR HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

Publishing in Shilling Monthly Parts.

THE POPULAR HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

BY CHARLES KNIGHT.

THE FIVE VOLUMES of this History, which are now completed—having also been issued in Forty Monthly Parts—bring down the annals of our country from the Invasion of Cæsar to the Death of Queen Anne. It was the object of the author to close a volume at the period of the Accession of that Constitutional Dynasty under which these realms have now flourished for nearly a century and a-half. The remainder of his undertaking will form the HISTORY OF ENGLAND UNDER THE HOUSE OF BRUNSWICK.

It is the author's intention to comprise this eventful era in Three Volumes, which will complete the entire work.

TIMES.

"This is the History for English youth."

SPECTATOR.

"As an immense store-house — some two thousand pages of facts bearing upon the history, religion, literature, arts, manners, and life of England from the Romans to the Revolution of 1688, KNIGHT'S POPULAR HISTORY OF ENGLAND is beyond all question a very remarkable work. Not the least remarkable feature in it perhaps is the freshness of feeling and the catholicity of mind which still inspires a man, whom many yet associate with nothing else than the utilitarianism of the 'Useful Knowledge Society.'"

LORD BROUGHAM.

"THE POPULAR HISTORY OF ENGLAND OF CHARLES KNIGHT is of a somewhat higher price (comparing it with works issuing in penny numbers); but the plates, as well as the paper, are greatly superior, and its literary merits are of a very high order. Indeed, nothing has ever appeared superior, if anything has been published equal to the accounts of the state of commerce, government, and society at different periods."—Address on Popular Literature, at the Meeting of the National Association for the Promotion of Social Science, October 12, 1858.

VALUABLE TESTIMONIAL.

Copy of a Letter from the late COLONEL HAWKER, the well-known Author on "GUNS AND SHOOTING."

LONGPARISH HOUSE, NEAR WHITCHURCH, HANTS. October 21, 1846.

SIR,—I cannot resist informing you of the extraordinary effect I have experienced by taking only a few of your LOZENGES. I had a cough for several weeks that defied all that had been prescribed for me; and yet I got completely rid of it by taking about half a small box of your Lozenges, which I find are the only ones that relieve the cough without deranging the stomach or digestive organs. I am, Sir, your humble servant,

P. HAWKER.
